

Job Plans Push Red Ink Higher

WASHINGTON (AP) — A last-minute addition for jobcreating programs boosts the proposed congressional budget target to more than $413 billion, which would mean a federal deficit of $50 billion next year and a clash this spring with President Ford over spending.

Ford is seeking a $395-billion spending lid for the 1977 fiscal year, which begins October 1, and a deficit of no more than $42.9 billion.

The House and Senate budget committees met in separate sessions Thursday and approved outlay and revenue targets which would increase both spending and the federal deficit.

Both panels also recommended a Social Security tax hike and the retention of the existing income tax cut.

The House panel set a $413.7-billion target, and approved an amendment opposed by all Republican members, adding $2.2 billion in anticipation that Congress will pass job-creating legislation to replace a bill Ford has vetoed.

Hours later, the Senate panel settled on a $413.1 billion budget which would mean a 1977 deficit of $50.7 billion, $100 million more than envisioned by the House panel.

The committee figures now go before the House and Senate. A compromise will have the full Congress agreeing on one figure. Floor action is expected by Easter.

Major increases over Ford's January recommendations included more than $6 billion in the category of education, employment and social services and $3 billion in income security.

Even so, the proposals soften a recommendation that would have cut Ford's plan for defense spending by $7 billion. He threatened to veto any major reduction in defense spending. The committees approved $112 billion for defense, $1.3 billion under Ford's recommendation.

The committees projected higher revenues by retaining existing income-tax reductions, rejecting Ford's proposals for an added $10-billion cut, increasing the Social Security tax and charging Medicare patients more for ordinary care while providing catastrophic expense protection.

The result was a $363-billion revenue estimate, compared with Ford's $351 billion.

Under a new budget law, being used fully this year for the first time, Congress is required by May 15 to adopt a tentative budget to guide — but not bind — action on money bills.

A second resolution, setting binding ceilings, is to be adopted before the new year begins on Oct. 1.

Jobless Figures For March Given

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's unemployment rate edged down to 7.5 per cent of the work force in March, marking the fifth straight monthly decline and the longest sustained drop in 14 years, the government said today.

Although the decline was slight — down from 7.6 per cent in February — Labor Department analysts said the steady improvement since October reflected continuing economic recovery from the recession.

Blacks and women benefited most from the March decline in unemployment, which was down by about 100,000, to a total of 7 million last month.

Total employment continued climbing in March, rising by another 375,000 to an all-time high of 86.7 million, the government said. Since reaching a recession-low last March, the number of Americans with jobs has risen by 2.6 million, with adult women accounting for more than half of the over-the-year increase.

The last time the unemployment rate dropped five consecutive months was between September 1961 and February 1962.

Unemployment declined gradually from the recession peak of 8.9 per cent last May and hovered about 8.6 per cent before beginning a rapid decline last October. But even with the improvement the jobless rate at 7.5 per cent remains far above its normal post World War II level.

Nevertheless, the Ford administration cited the improvement in the jobless rate and the declining inflation rate as vindication of its cautious economic policy. It also has been a boost to President Ford's election campaign.

Government economists see further improvement in the jobless rate this year, but caution that the decline is not likely to be continuous every month. In advance of the new unemployment report, Julius Shiskin, commissioner of labor statistics, had said he wouldn't be surprised to see the jobless rate edge up in March.

Shiskin said the normal decline in unemployment during the first year after a recession is about 1.5 per cent. By February, it had already fallen by more than 1 per cent, and he predicted a drop of another one-half to three-quarters of a point during the rest of the year.

Other economists, including Sidney L. Jones, assistant treasury secretary for economic affairs, say statistics can move rapidly for a period of time, then reach a plateau and "hang up for a while."

The last time unemployment has been below 7.5 per cent was in December 1974 when it was 7.2 per cent.

Jobless rates among most of the worker groups in the labor force were relatively unchanged last month with the exception of blacks whose unemployment rate fell 1.2 per cent to 12.5 per cent. Much of the improvement was among adult women, the government said.

Joblessness among blacks is now down nearly 2 percentage points from last September's peak of 14.4 per cent.

Report Accord Near In Teamster Strike

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS, Ill. (AP) — The Teamsters union's coast-to-coast truck strike rolled into its second day today with bargainers reported "very close" to agreement on a total economic package.

But sources close to both sides said disagreement on how the money package should be distributed among wages, cost-of-living benefits and other contract items remained to be settled when negotiations resumed today.

The work stoppage already has begun slowing the movement of goods, produced some scattered violence and has both government and business leaders deeply worried about the possible impact on the nation's commercial well-being.

All four U.S. auto makers said they would have to start shutting down production plants next week if the largest walkout ever by truckers is still on.

Labor Secretary W.J. Usery Jr., the key federal official involved in the dispute between 400,000 Teamsters and the trucking industry, remained at the bargaining site in this Chicago suburb trying to resolve the lingering money disputes.

Ford administration sources said it appeared that the government would refrain, at least temporarily, from taking action to invoke the Taft-Hartley Act while bargaining continued and there were indications of progress. The act provides for a 80-day cooling-off period, but that would take the pressure off negotiators.

Usery's continued presence at the talks was taken as one hopeful sign. He canceled tentative plans to return Thursday to Washington and remained until negotiations recessed at 1:20 a.m. this morning. An aide said he would stay in the negotiations again today.

Usery said five or six money issues were all that kept the two sides apart.

However, business leaders around the country sent telegrams Thursday to Washington, urging Ford to obtain a back-to-work order.

Some 60 per cent of the nation's manufactured products are moved by truck, and some key industries had only a few days' supply of materials at hand. But grocery store and gasoline supplies appeared generally to be adequate for the short term, and hospital facilities generally indicated no immediate shortages in essential medical supplies, drugs or equipment.

Several grocery store associations indicated that it would be at least a week before food supplies might begin to reflect the strike's effects.

The federal Department of Transportation said one million workers would be forced off their jobs by a week-long strike, translating to a $300-million loss to the economy.

Federal officials also feared that a big Teamsters settlement would touch off yet another inflationary wage

Lebanese Truce Enforced

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The 20th cease-fire in the 11-month-old Lebanese civil war took effect at noon today. Only scattered small-arms fire was reported in Beirut and nearby mountain resort towns that have been the scene of hard fighting in the past two weeks.

The truce was to last 10 days. A Syrian blueprint called for Christian President Suleiman Franjeh to resign during that period, opening the way for political reforms to increase the political and economic power of the country's Moslem majority.

Spokesmen for the warring leftist Moslems and right-wing Christians said their young street fighters were generally observing the cease-fire. They reported only minor violations.

Palestine guerrilla chief Yasir Arafat told all guerrilla groups to help enforce the standoff.

Franjeh sent no word that he would resign. But the Syrian government, which pressured leftist warlord Kamal Junblatt into accepting the cease-fire with a threat of military intervention, publicly guaranteed that the 65-year-old president would quit as soon as a new president was elected.

Franjeh was bombed out of the presidential palace east of Beirut by Junblatt's forces March 25. His temporary headquarters in the Christian port of Jounieh 12 miles north of Beirut would not say officially whether he would quit. But some aides

Breakup Of Oil Firms Pushed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new effort to break up the nations' largest oil corporations into a host of smaller companies may have won the approval of a Senate panel but the industry giants are far from becoming one-pump outfits.

The proposal to force the break-up of the 18 largest oil companies won bare 4 to 3 approval Thursday from the Senate Judiciary Committee's subcommittee on anti-trust, but despite its earth-shaking intentions, the move caused few ripples on Capitol Hill.

Getting through the subcommittee is probably the easiest test the bill will face, and there were no predictions that it would successfully make it through the full Judiciary Committee, much less through Congress and past the President.

Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., who originally introduced the legislation, said breaking up the 18 industry giants would increase competition and "result in enormous benefit to the consuming public."

James F. Flug, director of Energy Action, a self-styled public interest lobbying group, said the measure "makes good economic sense for consumers, investors and the industry itself."

But William P. Tavoulareas, president of Mobil Oil Corp., warned that even subcommittee approval of the measure was "a first step toward higher energy prices and a serious weakening of the nation's ability to become self-sufficient in energy. This is not the time for sweeping social experiments that could jeopardize the nation's energy security in order to provide short-term benefits for a few politicians."

A Judiciary Committee staff aide said it probably would be at least three weeks before the proposal would reach the full committee. But Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., who won major changes in Bayh's bill in an effort to win more support for it, said he hoped the full committee would give the measure some priority.

Bayh said a filibuster to block action may be attempted in the Judiciary Committee, and he noted it is more difficult to end a filibuster in a committee than on the Senate floor.

As approved by the subcommittee, the measure would affect Exxon, Texaco, Shell, Standard of Indiana, Gulf, Mobil, Standard of California, Atlantic-Richfield, Getty, Union, Sun, Phillips, Continental, Cities Service, Marathon, BP-Sohio, Amerasia Hess and Ashland.

The measure would require the companies to confine their operations to one of four principal segments of the industry — production, marketing, refining or transportation — and to divest themselves of other operations. Refiners would be permitted to retain retail outlets held prior to Jan. 1.

The subcommittee members who voted in favor of the proposal were Hart, Bayh, Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and James Abourezk, D-S.D. Voting against were Sens. Roman L. Hruska R-Neb., Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., and Hiram L. Fong, R-Hawaii.

SIGHT SAVER DONATION — Don Reams, president of the Pickaway Plains Sertoma Club, presents Board of Health President Charles McCray with a check for $150 to be used by the Sight Saver Fund. Since the fund was established by the Health Board in April, 1975, 44 pairs of glasses have been provided for needed children and adults. But, there are still about 21 children who need glasses.

Donations may be made to the fund through the Health Department. Health nurses, in a stepped-up eye screening program of children in grades K through 6 at all Pickaway County Schools, have examined about 3,500 students and found about 500 with sight deficiencies. The seriousness of the eye problems found are alarming, they said.

Kibler Runs For GOP State Committee

IRVIN KIBLER

Irvin W. Kibler has announced his candidacy for the Post of Republican State Central Committeeman from the Sixth Congressional District.

The district is composed of 11 counties, including Pickaway, in south and southwestern Ohio.

Kibler, who owns and operates K & K Farms near Hillsboro, has been a lifelong resident of Highland County. He is chairman of the Republican Central and Executive Committees of Highland County and has been a member of both committees for many years.

He has served as county chairman for seven years.

In 1964, Kibler was an alternate delegate from the Sixth District to the Republican National Convention in San Francisco. He is serving his second term as a member of the Highland County Board of Elections.

Kibler is married and has two children. He is a graduate of Lynchburg High School and attended Ohio State University and Wilmington College. He served as a Naval Aviator in World War II and continued in the Naval Reserve for 23 years, retiring with the rank of Lieutenant Commander.

He holds membership in many organizations including the Association of Ohio Commodores, Masonic Lodge, Scottish Rite, Ohio Association of Elected Officials, Reserve Officers Association, Honorable Order of Kentucky Colonels, Elks Lodge, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the American Legion.

'John Glenn' Aids Ford Campaign

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — John H. Glenn became a leader in President Ford's Ohio election campaign Thursday, but it was news to the Democratic U.S. senator.

The President Ford Committee-Ohio announced that Glenn, a regional sales manager for a milk company in Ohio, will serve as Defiance County chairman of the Ford Committee.

Glenn is no relation to Sen. John H. Glenn Jr., D-Ohio, who is scheduled to deliver the keynote address at the Democratic National Convention.

A spokesman for the Ford campaign said there was no significance to the date of the announcement—April Fools Day.

Evaluating Swine Flu

When the mass immunization program against "swine" flu virus was announced in Washington, Dr. Albert Sabin, polio vaccine developer and one of the health authorities consulted on the flu question, commented that the matter was one in which those involved would be damned if they did and damned if they didn't.

In opting to go ahead with a $135 million program to inoculate as many of the 215 million Americans as will take advantage of the vaccine, the United States at this time appears to be going alone. No other nation has announced a similar program. Several are investigating the possibilities, but others already have announced they consider the precaution a waste of effort.

Canada will announce within a matter of days whether it will adopt a similar crash immunization program.

Contrasting is the view of Prof. Soeren K. Soerensen, director of the Danish Board of Medicine, who said: "Here in Denmark we see no purpose whatsoever in organizing public vaccinations against flu which would give protection against a specific type of virus for no more than a year."

What brought the "SWINE" flu strain to the front burner of medical attention was an outbreak of the virus which was responsible for 20 million deaths worldwide in 1918-1920, among a few soldiers at Fort Dix, N.J. One soldier died from the virus.

Whether that one case was sufficient to warrant a nationwide inoculation plan is, as Dr. Sabin noted, the unanswerable question. Given the unknown future of this particular virus and the demonstrable results of its last major attack, it is far better to err on the side of caution.

Money Isn't Funny

By JIM BISHOP

A man may trust you with his wife, but who will trust you with his money? No one. Your government doesn't trust you with your own. It levies taxes, a part of your earnings, in order to protect the rest.

Tax is the illegitimate brother of income. The second supports the first. Within a few weeks, our government expects each of us to pay our fair share of expenses of the nation. Will we? I never saw a wage earner sit up half the night with pen and shreds of paper trying to figure a way of giving Uncle Sam one dollar more.

Chiseling is older than Rome. It's so ancient it is almost legal. Caesar Augustus fancied himself an accountant. For the greater glory of Rome, he levied greater and greater taxes in the provinces.

He had more and more money for more Roman legions to conquer more land on which taxes could be levied. Except one. He was shortchanged by Judea. He appointed Jewish tax collectors and gave them a piece of the action. It didn't work because he expected them to pay taxes on what they gouged from their brethren.

So he ordered all Jews to go to the towns of their forefathers and stand still to be counted. Joseph and Mary traveled 150 miles from Nazareth to Bethlehem. A census was taken. Someone forgot to count the new baby.

Jesus grew to toss the money changers from the temple. They're back. They work in churches and temples. The eradication of money as a primary staple of acquisition is impossible. Banks grow nothing, produce nothing. They borrow money from depositors at a low rate of interest and lend it back at a high rate.

Two hundred years ago we went to war with England over taxes. Our forefathers were outraged, not because of the tea tax, but because of all taxes. George III almost bankrupted his nation sending redcoats to subdue the colonies, and fleets to close our ports.

The biggest signer of the Declaration of Independence was John Hancock. He was also the biggest smuggler. He owed over $100,000 to England in fines when he signed that noble document.

Money, or the lack of it, causes thievery, divorce, infidelity, murder, lawsuits, broken friendships, lying, cheating, embezzlement, confidence games, envy, even war. It is also the reason why rich men have so many young nieces.

To find a businessman who has cheated but once is as difficult as finding a woman who has been untrue but once. Money never enhances character; it diminishes all men. The trait we admire, success, is no more than the acquisition of money and power.

I never knew a man who had a million dollars who wasn't working twice as hard toward the second. In a choice between money and love, only the young pick romance. The old miser achieves as great a thrill holding a fistful of gold coins as the young man feels holding his girl to his heart. Maybe more, because the miser can do it endlessly.

Nor is good fortune always good fortune. If one member of a large family is successful, the remainder will expect his generosity and resent it. Failures always plot against successes.

From biblical days onward, lovely women have always given themselves freely to worthy men, and sold themselves to the unworthy. The three great instincts are survival, sex and food. He who sells any of the three wisely must get rich.

Rich is a rubber word. Compared to what? I would define the word as having more worldly goods than one can use for the rest of his life. My father thought of me as rich. I have more money than the Bishops I know. However, if I were stricken blind I could survive for five years.

Is that rich? In today's America, I feel that he is rich who has no indebtedness. Just plain broke is rich. A young man or lady with a university degree in the arts or sciences is rich without money. A good education is the best insurance policy against the future.

This is too serious. Too grim. Money, I find, isn't funny. Let us end on a light note. Two partners were on a vacation with their wives. One said, "My god, we forgot to lock the safe. All our money is inside." The other one shrugged. "What are you worried about? We're both here!"

OU Prof's Book Becomes Movie

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — A movie adapted from a novel by an Ohio University professor featuring rock star David Bowie will probably be distributed in this country by May.

The movie, "The Man Who Fell To Earth," is adapted from the novel written by Walter Tevis, an English professor at the university. It had its premiere in London last month.

The book is Tevis' second work. His first was "The Hustler," which was made into a film that featured Paul Newman and Jackie Gleason.

Speaking Of Your Health

My husband has been in excellent health. I notice that from the time his company spoke to him about forced retirement, he has developed all kinds of unimportant complaints. He still has a year to go before that sad event takes place. How can I help him to meet this milestone in his life?

Mrs. G. H., R.I.

Dear Mrs. H.:

Your observations are undoubtedly valid. Many thousands of thoroughly capable people are unnecessarily dislocated from a life of activity because of their chronological age.

It is a paradox that has yet to be solved. At the turn of the century people who lived only to the age of 60 were not arbitrarily dislocated from their jobs at the age of 45. Rather were they encouraged to continue in their work.

Because of the remarkable strides made in medicine, 16 or 18 years have been added to the longevity of many people. This added bonus of years is now associated with a penalty for having survived.

Having gained these additional years they are now punished by being separated prematurely from an occupation they enjoyed and to which they contributed.

This is a total waste of man's accomplishment and in a measure is a discriminatory act against the elderly who deserve a better deal from society.

Many people who are given the added years can, in fact, consider them to be a burden rather than a blessing. I have known many people who, during a productive phase of living, have been forced to retire from work only to be further forced into "retiring from the joys of living."

Society must not permit these people to run a race against time hoping that they will not survive the moment when their finances run out and they may become a burden to those around them.

Does this give you some insight into the complexity of the patterns of thinking of your husband? Does this show you how precarious his emotions can be during the pre-retirement period?

Living in a state of "waiting" for retirement can indeed produce physical problems that emerge as a result of emotional confusion and conflict.

You can indeed help your husband by a straightforward confrontation with the problem rather than pretending that it does not exist. Talking it out with an advisor or a psychologist or a religious counsellor might clarify all of the elements of forced retirement and offer better insight into its ramifications.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE: While The Herald encourages open comments from its readers, the opinions expressed are not necessarily those of the management. Letters to the editor must be signed and should be of 300 words or less.

Dear Editor:

Several communities in Ohio have organized and obtained senior citizen's housing. To accomplish this purpose an organization has been formed in Pickaway County to achieve this type of housing for the senior citizens in the county. This organization is non-profit and is incorporated as Pickaway Terrace Inc.

Our advisor, who has helped pilot several of these projects in Ohio, has advised us that it will be to our advantage to raise two per cent of the total estimated cost of the project by some means to help expedite the project.

The estimated cost of the project is one million dollars. Therefore we would like to raise twenty thousand dollars. In any event we need some "seed" money for preliminary operations and incidentals until we can secure the necessary Federal money from Farmers Home Administration.

We would be glad to furnish a speaker to further explain the project if there are civic or religious organizations who would be interested. Just call Mrs. Vera Saunders at Pickaway Senior Center 474-4916 or at her home 474-3917. Mrs. Saunders is Secretary of the Corporation. Or you may call Mrs. Blanche Kerns, vice president at 474-5406.

We would appreciate any support.

Thank You GUY H. LEATHERWOOD, President Pickaway Terrace Inc.

By JOHN CUNIFF AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's progress toward a cleaner environment seems to be getting tangled in the barbed wire of some physical, human and economic realities.

For some time, say the grimmer of the critics, the entire movement seemed capable of soaring over the obstructions. But now, they maintain, the environmentalists are being brought back to earth.

Just what the consequences will be isn't entirely clear, but lives, jobs, prices, profits and availability of products are involved, and there are plenty of people willing to stake everything on one or more of them.

A major paper and wood products manufacturer maintains "there is every possibility" its pollution-control measures will create even more damage, some of it not immediately seen.

A research organization finds that in order to comply with environmental requirements, some companies would have to make sizable increases in their use of energy, thus conflicting with another national goal.

The Environmental Protection Agency last month exempted eight steel plants from new water pollution restraints, saying compliance costs might endanger their existence and that of an entire local economy.

The goal of eliminating all pollution from a plant, said C. R. Dahl, president of CrownZellerbach Corp., which says it is spending $190 million to clean up the environment, is an "illusion."

In a talk to the Chamber of Commerce of Camas-Washougal, Wash., he stated:

"If pollution control regulations remain unmodified, there is every possibility that the control measures will contribute more to the degradation of the total environment than to its improvement."

To seek total cleansing is to squander billions, he suggested, because the environment is capable of harmlessly assimilating some degree of pollution. And then there is the rule of diminishing returns.

In the field of air quality control, he said, "moving from 98 per cent to 99.8 per cent purity requires four times as much purchased energy as it took to get from zero to 98 per cent control." It is clear, he said, "that quadrupling the output of power from an electrical station at another source will surely offset the benefits of removing the additional 1.8 per cent at the control source."

In the news also are some research reports that are said to show a direct conflict between pollution control and energy conservation.

Nearly a year ago, a study by Arthur D. Little Inc. indicated that the steel industry would have to increase its energy consumption 11 per cent to meet the 1983 pollution-control requirements.

Now, says Business Week magazine, a study made for the Commerce Department concludes that environmental controls will force the iron and steel industry to use 10 per cent more energy.

With both energy and environment considered top priority goals, any reports of this sort are bound to be questioned and evaluated critically for months and perhaps years, but at the moment a first-class conflict seems to exist.

On Books And Activities At The Library

The USA is one of the few countries where citizens can enjoy the right to read and, in fact, are encouraged to do so by the system of free public libraries open to them. April 4-10 is National Library Week. The Pickaway County District Public Library invites you to visit your local facility and discover the wonderful world of books available to you.

The newly organized "Friends Of The Library" will be celebrating Library Week by sponsoring an Open House at the Library on April 4th, 2:30-4:30. Refreshments, tours and an interesting day have been planned for you. Come and bring the family.

The new fiction this week includes several of the latest titles in the large print editions. Be sure to check this area if you have an eye problem or know someone who does.

Norah Loftis needs no introduction as a novelist. "The Homcoming" is a sequel to "Knight's Acre" and is a masterful chronicle of fifteenth century England.

"A Winter's Reckoning" by Ellen Bromfield Geld is a mixture of love, weakness and evil. It's the fascinating story of the Cardoso family.

Kit Reed's latest novel, "Captain Grownup" is both serious and funny. The author's capacity for irony makes this a warm, witty tale full of surprises.

Suspense is the word for "The Moon Lamp" by Mark Smith. An old house in New England and the intense interest in ghosts by its new occupants make this a tale to keep you on the edge of your chair.

Historical fiction readers can enjoy some good reading this week. Jean Plaidy's new offering is "Light On Lucrezia." The author sheds new light on the fascinating woman who was Lucrezia Borgia.

"Isabella And Ferdinand" by Plaidy is a new one volume edition of the author's trilogy about Spain's famous Catholic rulers.

Donald Thomas sets his new historical novel in the time of Wellington, Napoleon, Hornblower and the Scarlet Pimpernel. "The Flight Of The Eagle" is the story of the Dragons.

"The Stranger Prince" is the tale of a reckless fighter. Margaret Irwin has penned the adventuresome story of Rupert of the Rhine.

Dorothy Dunnett fans will be interested in "The Game Of Kings." It's the first volume in a series of novels about Francis Crawford.

Constance Heaven sets her historical romance in Scotland. "The Fires Of Glenloch" is a tale of tangled family passions.

A modern novel, "Bloodbrothers" by Richard Price is a violent story about a family of hard hats.

Elizabeth Cadell is a favorite among readers of romance. This week look for "Be My Guest," "Mixed Marriage," and "Sugar Candy Cottage."

A good place to meet a celebrity is on the biography shelf in the library! Charles Colson was as close to Watergate as a man could get. His story "Born Again" tells how that experience affected his life.

"C'Nelia" by Cornelia Wallace gives the reader not only a portrait of the author, but also some behind-the-scenes glimpses of her famous husband, George Wallace.

Loretta Lynn is well-known to country music fans. Her book "Loretta Lynn" reveals the coal miner's daughter's struggle to stardom.

"Adlai Stevenson Of Illinois" by John B. Martin is the first of a two volume word-portrait of one of America's well-known political figures.

"Particulars Of My Life" is the opening volume of B. F. Skinner's autobiography. This volume follows his life from childhood, youth, through the Roaring Twenties into his dream of becoming a great writer. It ends as he moves into the realm of the behaviorist.

"Houdini's Escape And Magic" by Walter Gibson reveals many of the famous magician's secrets.

"The Long Hunter" by Lawrence Elliott presents the human side of Daniel Boone, stripped of myth.

"A Man Called Intrepid" is the story of Sir William Stephenson, chief of the world's first integrated intelligence operation. William Stephenson, journalist and author, has chronicled this fascinating account of secret diplomacy.

"What Do You Do With A Kinkajou?" by Alice Gilborn is a must for animal lovers. It's the true story of the author's mother and her amazing menagerie.

Denis Brian is an investigative reporter. His latest book is "Jeane Dixon: The Witnesses," in which he seeks to learn whether Jeane Dixon is a true prophet.

"Est" by Adelaide Bry is a look at the fastest-growing of the human-potential movements.

For several hours of fascinating browsing, don't overlook "Treasury Of American Design" by Clarence Hornung.

Exercise the privilege of reading — it's your right as an American. For the best in reading, visit your Pickaway County District Public Library during National Library Week.

Easter Seal Campaign Working To Meet Goal

The measure of success in the 1976 Easter Seal Campaign depends on the contributions and volunteer services of many people.

In Pickaway County, men, women and students work together to help the local Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults realize the goal set for the 1976 campaign drive. The campaign extends through Easter Sunday, April 18.

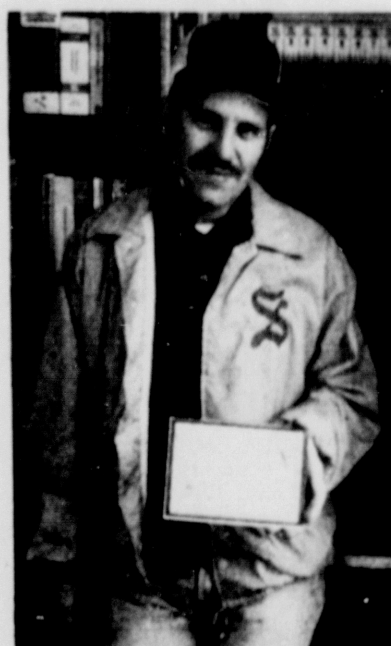

According to Dick T. Tootle, Pickaway County's Easter Seal Campaign chairman, "plans are still being made and implemented in efforts to meet Pickaway County's Campaign goal. . . coin cards will soon be delivered to the county grade schools and reminders will be mailed soon to those who may have forgotten to send their contribution."

Girls from Circleville, Logan Elm and Teays Valley High Schools will be rendering their services to the campaign by participating in the annual Lily Day sale on April 10. The girls will be stationed at various business establishments throughout Pickaway County.

Creating the most recent and exciting interest however, is the "spike tomahawk" made by Robert Ely an donated to the Easter Seal Society to aid in its campaign drive. The tomahawk's haft is made from the wood of the famed Logan Elm Tree. On one side Ely has engraved a replica of the famous tree and on the other side he engraved "Logan Elm, 1774-1974" depicting the date of Chief Logan's famous speech and the date, 200 years later, when he (Ely) made the tomahawk. It is presently being displayed at Butch's Jewelry in Circleville.

Ely donated the tomahawk to be sold by bids to the highest bidder, all money going to the Pickaway County Easter Seal Society. Bids should be sent in writing to the Easter Seal Society, P.O. Box 243, c-o M. C. Kirkwood, Executive Secretary Circleville, Ohio 43113 before April 18, 1976. The sealed bids will be opened April 19, 7:30 P.M. at the Easter Seal Headquarters at 216½ S. Court, Circleville, Ohio.

NOTICE OF TIME AND PLACE FOR HEARING OF ANNEXATION PETITION

On the 23rd day of March, 1976, a petition signed by a majority of the owners or adult freeholders of the hereinafter described territory praying that said territory be annexed to the Village of Ashville, in the manner provided by law, was filed in the office of the Board of County Commissioners of Pickaway County, Ohio. The territory so sought to be annexed is described as follows: Situated in the Township of Harrison, County of Pickaway and State of Ohio and being a part of the Northeast Quarter of Section 12, Township 2, Range 22, and bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a railroad spike in the intersection of the Circleville Lockbourne Road and State Route 752, thence N. 87 degrees 14' W. 296.00 feet to a point; thence N. 87 degrees 16' E. 274.31 feet to an iron pin (passing an iron pin at 30.00 feet); thence S. 87 degrees 14' E. 290.37 feet to a point in the centerline of the Circleville-Lockbourne Road (passing an iron pin at 265.57 feet); thence with the centerline of the Circleville-Lockbourne Road S. 4 degrees 10' W. 278.31 feet to the place of beginning. Containing in all 1.841 acres, more or less of which 0.341 occupies road right-of-way. Subject to all legal right-of-ways of record.

The Clerk of said Board on the 29th day of March, 1976 caused the petition to be entered upon the record of proceedings of the Board and on the 29th day of March, 1976, caused the petition to be filed in the office of the County Auditor of Pickaway County, Ohio. Thereafter on the 29th day of March 1976, the Board of County Commissioners adopted a resolution setting a date for the hearing on said petition for annexation and you are hereby notified that the 24th day of May, 1976 at 10:00 o'clock A.M. has been assigned for the hearing on the aforesaid petition for annexation, said hearing to be held at the office of the Pickaway County Commissioners, Circleville, Ohio.

DEBRA SUE MAXSON

Debra Sue Maxson, Rodney Duckett To Wed In July

Mr. and Mrs. George Maxson, 13700 Hayesville Road, Kingston, are announcing the engagement of their niece, Debra Sue Maxson, to Rodney Duckett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Sauer of Hamilton. Miss Maxson is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Maxson of Circleville.

Miss Maxson attended Capital University for two years and is presently attending Wright State University in Dayton. She is majoring in business education.

Mr. Duckett attended Sinclair College in Dayton and received a bachelor of arts degree from Capital University in Columbus. He is currently associated with Miami Jacobs College in Dayton as an admissions representative.

The wedding will be an event of 6:30 p.m., July 10, in the Lutheran Church of Hamilton.

Country Kitchen Homemakers Club Holds Sessions

Country Kitchen Homemakers Extension Club discussed the county-wide Spring Meeting recently during a meeting in the home of Carolyn Jarrell, South Bloomfield.

During the business meeting presided over by June Timmons, volunteers reported about the Diabetes Clinic in Ashville.

The lesson "Modernizing Your Home" was presented by Ruth Hoover. Slides on the subject were shown by Beverly Bechtel, Home Extension Agent.

Announcement was made that the club's cookbook "The Heritage Of Country Kitchen Cooking" was completed and ready to be sold. Copies may be obtained by calling 474-3422 or 983-2196.

At an all-day craft meeting in the home of Patricia Hoover, Route 1, Ashville, Ruth Thomas demonstrated making flowers with yarn. A guest, Mrs. Charlene Sabito, taught members how to make a hanging planter and to cover a clay pot with wrapping paper.

A carry-in luncheon was served to Sandy Dixon, Mary Masters, Carolyn Jarrell, Janet Rathburn, Ruth Thomas, Charlene Sabito, Ruth Hoover, Dorothy Swoyer, June Timmons and Patricia Hoover.

The next meeting will be held 9:30 a.m., April 13, at the home of Patricia Hoover.

In an effort to keep society news current, The Herald has established the following policy concerning wedding news:

Wedding forms may be obtained at The Herald from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday and until noon on Saturday.

It would be helpful to have the wedding form completed and returned with a picture three days before the wedding.

The Herald will make every effort to publish the story and picture on the next day of publication following the wedding providing the forms and picture are returned before the wedding.

No bridal pictures and stories will be accepted if submitted later than 30 days following the ceremony.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Wife Perplexed About Yo-Yo Marriage

DEAR ABBY: I am writing to you in desperation. After six years of marriage my husband just walked off and left me. I feel like my whole world is falling apart.

One day three months ago I came home and discovered that he had moved out, lock, stock and barrel. I nearly went out of my mind.

Two weeks later he called to say that he was living out of town and was involved with another woman, but that he didn't want a divorce.

He comes in town once a week to see me. We go out together and he supports me. (He's a musician.) He says he still loves me but he doesn't want to live with me or stop seeing me.

Abby, I don't want a once-a-week husband, but I don't want to lose him. My friends tell me that I'm a fool and that as long as I give him his freedom to come and go, he'll never come back to me permanently.

Should I give him an ultimatum? I still love him. Please tell me what to do.

OUT OF MY MIND

DEAR OUT: Do nothing in haste. The worst mistake a woman can make is to give her husband an ultimatum if she isn't ready to accept the consequences. If you still love him, hang in there, and in time you will know what to do.

DEAR ABBY: My boss thinks he's perfect. I've worked for him for 11 years and have always automatically corrected his mistakes without calling them to his attention.

Lately, whenever I make a mistake and he catches it, he will call my attention to it with scorn and derision. I dislike this. After all, if I did my work exactly as he instructed me, there would be literally 20 times the mistakes.

Would you advise me to point out all of his mistakes so that he would realize how many he makes?

SECRETARY

DEAR SEC: No. Continue to correct his mistakes automatically and without comment—that's what you're being paid to do. However, do let him know that you resent the "scorn and derision."

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I both smoke. We have smoked for years and realize that we have set a bad example for our daughter, 14, but we can't quit now. We know for a fact that our daughter smokes, but we refuse to give her permission to smoke in our home.

To compound our problem, my mother-in-law (who also smokes) agrees with the child. She claims that we are wrong in making a "sneak" out of the child. She insists that we allow our daughter to smoke in front of us and has even given her cigarettes.

Open House Sunday At Public Library

The Friends of Pickaway County District Public Library have completed plans for an open house at the library on Sunday from 2-4 p.m.

The Friends will be assisted in welcoming guests by members of the library staff and trustees. The observance is a part of National Library Week.

Bicentennial Guest Day At Governor's Mansion

Child Conservation League will hold its Bicentennial Guest Day at the Governor's Mansion, Parkview and Maryland Ave., Columbus promptly at 12:30 p.m., April 6.

The program will be a bicentennial style show presented by the Ladybugs and Buckeyes of Worthington.

I disagree and am appalled by my mother-in-law's attitude. Is there a solution?

WITHHOLD OUR NAMES

DEAR WITHHOLD: Your mother-in-law would have made a perfect serpent in the garden of Eden. The obvious solution to your problem is for you and your wife to quit smoking. And for goodness' sake, as long as your daughter is a minor and you have anything to say about it, do not give her permission to smoke in your home—or out of it!

New York Faces More Money Woes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Faced with potential budget problems that could aggravate New York City's finances, New York officials must now convince Congress they're living up to the pledges of fiscal responsibility made when they asked for emergency federal loans.

The Senate Banking Committee today starts two days of hearings to determine how the city is doing on its promises made last year when city and state officials were trying to convince Congress and the Ford administration to approve emergency federal loans to the city.

Those promises include balancing the city budget and overhauling an accounting system that has been compared to a Byzantine paper maze.

Treasury Secretary William E. Simon and New York Gov. Hugh Carey are to testify today. On Friday, New York City Mayor Abraham Beame and Elmer B. Staats, comptroller general of the United States, will be among the witnesses.

Chairman William Proxmire, D-Wis., said the city is now faced with unanticipated problems that could put it "in really bad shape."

The major problems mentioned by him and other committee sources are the possibility that New York City transit workers might get a pay raise beyond that allowed by a state-imposed wage lid and problems in the state capital that may cut some state aid to the city's schools.

Proxmire said if the 34,000 transit workers win out, other municipal unions will start demanding wage increases beyond what state permits, which could cause havoc with the city's budget.

For a Bicentennial cake, cut paper patterns for 1776 and place the numbers over the center of a square unfrosted cake. Cut four paper patterns in star design; place one at each corner of the cake. Generously sift confectioners' sugar over the cake; carefully remove the patterns.

Williamsport News

By EILEEN EASTERDAY, Phone 986-3481

I don't believe I ever fully appreciated the words "sharp disappointment" until this past weekend when our visit to Macon, Ga. had to be postponed due to my illness. I'm not sure what kind of "bug" has messed up all my plans but let me tell you I hope it never comes my way again. Never have I felt so sick.

We talked by phone with our adored Grandma Smiley who was 102 years old on Wednesday down in Macon. Her daughter Ruth "Sweetpea", with whom she makes her home since leaving Williamsport three years ago, reports that several neighbors and members of her garden club gathered at the home for a birthday party for Grandma Smiley. Ruth said Macon had been under tornado warnings all day and it had rained something fierce but even so everyone had a fun time.

The only bright spot in an otherwise very dismal week was having my dear, dear friend Jessica Sonneman of Springdale (near Fayetteville) Arkansas "pop in" for a quickie chat. With her was daughter Diana Driscoll Christie who lives near Tulsa, Okla. Former residents here, the family went west about 11 years ago. They took time to see a former classmate of Diana's, Linda Huff Moore. While in Ohio they planned to visit with friends and relatives in Chillicothe, Sabina and London. How good it was to have them here even if the time was brief.

Farm Price Index Drops In Month

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government's farm price index dropped 1.5 per cent last month, including substantial declines for meat animals, dairy products and poultry. From Feb. 15 to March 15, the Agriculture Department said Wednesday, average farm price of meat animals dropped 2 per cent. Prices for live cattle averaged $33.60 per 100 pounds, down 60 cents during the month, and hogs dropped $2.40 to $45.50 per 100 pounds.

Even so, the department's Crop Reporting Board said, meat animal prices averaged 22 per cent above March 25, 1975. Farm prices overall were up 12 per cent from a year earlier.

Prices that farmers pay out to meet expenses, meanwhile, rose one-half of

Jobless Benefits To Come To End

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Extended benefits for about 50,000 Ohioans who have been unemployed more than 39 weeks will end as of Saturday, according to the Bureau of Employment Services.

Persons who would have received weekly unemployment checks between their 39th and 65th weeks without work will no longer get the benefits, said Charles Westlake, a department spokesman.

He said federal subsidies under an extended benefit program have been suspended because the state's average employment rate has fallen below the 5 per cent level on a 13-week average.

The first 26 weeks of unemployment are funded by the state. The cost for an additional 13 weeks of coverage for the unemployed is shared by the federal and state governments.

If the unemployment rate increases to 6 per cent, Westlake said, the federal program will be resumed.

Claim Findlay Spending Illegal

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP) — Hancock County had an April 1 surprise for the city.

Edward Hugus, the county auditor, told the city it can't spend any money because officials submitted the 1976 appropriation ordinance on improper forms.

But city Auditor Harold Smith said the ordinance was submitted on the same forms he's always used. He charged Hugus with unfair tactics in the ruling.

The problem apparently is in the hands of David Hackenberg, city solicitor. Hackenberg is on vacation until Monday.

It was happyville time Sunday for Shana Wills, A.J. and Juanita Cook when Paul and Mary Wills of Pennsylvania and Don and Rose Wills of Columbus came for a day of visiting. It had been high on to four years since Shana had seen Uncle Paul.

Gwinn Lane announces there will be a meeting of the mothers of the Williamsport Cadets at 4 p.m. Saturday immediately following weekly drill practice.

Remember the Jaycees' consignment sale in the Pavilion this Saturday.

American Legion Post 618 annual all you can eat fish fry is also Saturday. Sandwiches will be served from 1 p.m. until 5 p.m. and dinners from 5 p.m. until 8 p.m.

Send get well cards to LeRoy Lane, a patient at Berger Hospital and to Ernest Weaver, Room 807, Riverside Hospital, Columbus, Ohio.

Other pieces of news will just have to wait until I can muster up the strength to "carry on". I truly thought I could do it all this morning (Thursday) but a short time at the typewriter has proved to be my limit. I am sorry.

Will be with you again soon, the Lord willing. Take care.

AREA CHAIRMEN — Discussing how they plan to arrange for volunteers to make house-to-house canvasses for the 1976 Pickaway County Cancer Crusade are Donna Tackett, on the left, and Linda Hill. More canvassers are needed and for anyone wishing to donate some time calling on their neighbors either one of the above may be contacted. Mrs. Tackett's telephone number is 474-1285 and that of Mrs. Hill is 474-1205.

Answers For Veterans

EDITOR'S NOTE: Each week the Circleville Herald will publish a series of questions and answers of interest to veterans. These questions and answers are some of the many presented to James P. Shea, Pickaway County Veterans Service Officer. Any veteran desiring further information concerning his Veterans Administration benefits should contact the Veterans Service Officer at 219 South Court Street.

(Q.) In one of your Q and A columns a couple months ago, I noted that a veteran who enters service after July 25, 1975 is not eligible for education benefits under the GI Bill. Was that correct?

(A.) That is what I had printed in my Q and A Column. However, it is not correct. Any veteran who served on active duty for a period of more than 180 days, any part of which occurred after January 31, 1955, and who was released under conditions, other than dishonorable, is still eligible for education benefits. Sorry for that error.

(Q.) Is the VA paying dividends on World War II GI Insurance this year?

(A.) Yes they are. Dividends are being paid this year as they have been in past years.

(Q.) When a veteran enrolls in a GI Bill correspondence course, is there a "cooling-off period" before the agreement is effective?

(A.) Yes. The agreement is not effective unless the veteran, after the expiration of 10 days after the agreement is signed, submits a signed written statement to VA and to the correspondence school affirming the agreement.

(Q.) Is there any VA monetary benefit which must be reported as income for federal income tax?

(A.) All VA monetary benefits are excluded, except interest earnings from GI insurance dividends left on deposit. Those must be reported.

(Q.) I used my GI Bill education benefit to gain an associate degree. I have enough time to start for a bachelor's degree, but can't finish before my 36 months runs out. Can I get the nine-month extension? Could I use the additional nine months to get a second associate degree?

(A.) Applicants who have associate degrees are eligible for the extension to get an undergraduate or first professional degree. They cannot use the extra time to earn a second associate degree. The extension is available only to those originally eligible for 36 months entitlement and they must have exhausted it while enrolled in a bachelor or first professional degree program.

Money Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Life Insurance Assn. Companies says life insurance firms supplied an estimated $17.4 billion to U.S. money and capital markets in 1975. It says this was up from $14.9 billion in 1974.

Attendance Up

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Missouri's four National Park Service areas drew 3.8 million visitors in 1975, according to Merrill D. Beal, NPS Midwest Regional Director.

Who'll take the kinks out of Auto Financing?

You've been through it before. You start out wanting a new car... then, wham! bam! and presto, you have bought the car you didn't particularly want at a price you didn't want to pay. Happens to us all. We will un-complicate things for you. Come in and tell us about how much you want to pay (maybe even broken down into monthly payments). Apply for a loan for that amount, and when it's approved, you're ready to go shopping. Having the loan already approved might even help you get a better deal. It can't hurt to try.

Church Briefs

A living dramatization of Leonardo da Vinci's The Last Supper will be presented at St. Jacob's Lutheran Church, Tarlton, 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

The Chapel Keys Quartet will be singing at the First Church of Christ in Christian Union, 436 E. Ohio St. 7:30 p.m. Saturday and 9:30 and 10:30 a.m. Sunday.

The Crusaders Quartet will sing at Morris United Methodist Church 10:30 a.m. Sunday worship service and also at the 7:30 p.m. service.

Dr. Leonard Stigler, director of evangelism and stewardship of Southern Baptists in the state of Ohio and also interim pastor for the Logan Elm Baptist Mission, will be the speaker for the morning worship at the mission. Marvin Boyles, personal and family counselor at Capitol University, will be speaking in the evening worship.

"What Is This Faith Stuff?" will be the topic of the sermon by the Rev. Henry A. Walters at the 10:20 a.m. Service of the First Presbyterian Church Sunday. A Lenten service will be held 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

The sermon by the Rev. David Frazer will deal with the transfiguration of Jesus and is entitled "Coming from the Mountain" at the 8:30 a.m. and the 10:45 a.m. services Sunday. New Life will sing at both services.

"His Word Is Sure" will be the sermon topic by Pastor Carl G. Zehner Sunday at Trinity Lutheran Church. There will be no holy communion this Sunday.

The Senior Luther League will meet 6 p.m. in the parish house. The adult discussion group will meet 7:30 p.m. Monday. At the mid week Lenten service 7:30 p.m. Wednesday the sermon, "The Burdens of Man — Abraham", will be delivered by guest minister the Rev. Vernon Jones of Obetz.

The Rev. Don Makarius will be the guest speaker Sunday at Good Shepherd United Methodist Church. The title of his sermon will be "Roots of Righteousness."

Cultural Mission Performs At OSU

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A cultural mission from Nationalist China will perform at Ohio State University on April 23.

The group, composed of students and faculty from Chinese universities will perform folk songs and dances, and will demonstrate the art of KungFu.

The program is sponsored by the Chinese, East Asian and International Student associations.

Sherlock Family To Sing At Revival

The Sherlock Family Singers will provide special music during the revival at the Darbyville Nazarene Church April 7-11.

They will sing at a special songfest 2:30 p.m. April 11. The Rev. Earl Crabtree of Hemlock is the evangelist. The Rev. Jack Lewis is pastor of Darbyville Nazarene Church.

Mission Fair Scheduled At Good Shepherd

A Mission Fair, sponsored by the Work Area of Missions of the Good Shepherd United Methodist Church, 310 E. Main St., will be conducted in the Service of the Church beginning at 5:30 p.m., Sunday.

The Rev. Norman Paul Brom, a United Methodist Missionary to Brazil from June 1960 to June 1971 and now living in Cincinnati will be the guest speaker at 7 p.m. While in Brazil Brom and his wife, Phyllis, served as interpreters and translators in churches, schools, on television, and in government programs, in addition to their regular teaching and pastoral duties. He taught psychology in a state normal school at Resplendor and pastoral care in a Presbyterian Seminary in Vitoria. He also was pastor of Central Methodist Church there.

Mrs. Brom taught English to Brazilians in three different cities, from kindergarten to the university level. For two years she taught Portuguese and English at INLINGUA School of Languages in Cincinnati. The Broms are graduates of the Language School in Campinas, S.P., Brazil.

The program Sunday evening will be centered around the mission program of North America, South America, Africa, Europe, South East Asia and the South Pacific, with booths set up in Service Center representing each of these areas. Food at each booth, wares, utensils will help to depict the life style and customs of these countries.

The Jennie Munger Gregory Memorial Museum, a half mile west of Geneva-on-the-lake, Ohio is a 19th century summer house and has a historical and genealogical library.

Religions Teach Peace, War

NEW YORK (AP) — The world's religions teach peace, justice and love, yet they also evoke commitment, loyalties, passions and, paradoxically, sometimes war.

That strange admixture is at work today in Lebanon, marking off the lines of battle between Moslems and Christians over political and social prerogatives. It also figures in most other zones of conflict in the modern world.

"Bloody and vicious wars are still being fought in the name of God," observes the Rev. Albert P. Stauderman of Philadelphia, editor of the Lutheran.

"Somewhere the great teachings of tolerance and understanding have broken down."

Yet throughout history, religion often has been a factor in wars, from the Crusades to Hitler's attempted extermination of the Jews. Contrary to modern sociological assumptions that religion has become a declining influence, it still figures in most of the world's major conflicts.

"There is not a continent on earth where religious-ethnic hatred has not been a factor in feeding ideological hatred and spreading violence," says Rabbi Mark Tanenbaum, inter-religious director of the American Jewish Committee.

Why? Scholars say it is not the teachings of the religions themselves, but human raptures of them. Also, a theological axiom holds that the greater the potential of any quality for good, the greater its potential for harm.

For example, the same truism is applied to other values such as sex, intelligence, property, food, authority and other goods, which also can be instruments of exploitation and deceit, greed and theft, gluttony and tyranny.

It is not the life-providing goods, nor the religious values, that cause the problems, the philosophers say, but the human distortions of them, and the higher the goods, the more devastating can be the distortions.

In Lebanon, as elsewhere, however, other factors of political power, economic position and social systems are the concrete elements over which war has erupted along religious lines.

"In a sense, religious identity is injected into the conflict without religion itself being the issue," says J. Richard Butler, Middle East director of the Overseas Ministry Division of the National Council of Churches.

The country of 3.3 million is about 60 per cent Moslem, 40 per cent Christian. Most Christians — more than 900,000 of 1.3 million — are Eastern Rite or "Maronite" Catholics, sometimes called "unat" Catholics.

Their church was founded by St Maron in the 5th century. Members adhere to the Pope of Rome, but allow for married clergy and have their own liturgical customs. Next largest group — about 350,000 — is Greek Orthodox.

There are smaller groups of Protestants, including the Presbyterian.

Ambition is strong in some people. They have the unique ability to define their goals in life and they are able to channel their skills and energy in order to realize these ambitions.

Of course, each of us has our own individual goals — all different in proportion and nature. And, each requires a different amount of energy to be realized. If we fail, we should exert more energy! For this ability to keep trying — in the face of great odds . . . can lead eventually to success.

To one degree or another then, all of us are constantly using up our individual energy supplies. To tackle the fresh challenges and problems of each tomorrow, we need a dependable source of unfailing power. Such continuous power is always available to you within the supporting bonds of the Church.

Use Of Library Continues To Increase

In 1975 the Pickaway County District Public Library experienced a continuing upward trend in library use by adults and children.

Total circulation of materials reached a record 240,950, an increase of five per cent over the previous year's circulation.

While registration for the three year period increased to 13,615 an increase of over three per cent over the previous year, these active patrons represent only about 33 per cent of the total county population.

Circulation by material categories was: books, 234,351; periodicals, 4,177; recordings, 1,690; framed art, 150; films, 582.

The bookmobile traveled 7,573 miles under the direction of Miss Jane Jacobs assisted by Mrs. Christine Morgan and Mrs. Elsie Bartholomew and made 44 stops each three week period. An evening stop was made at Williamsport.

During the summer months the bookmobile covered 61 stops on a two-week schedule. The junior girl scouts conducted a ten-day summer story hour program at bookmobile stops during July. During the summer Mrs. Diane McDaniel conducted a story and craft session for elementary school children. There were two pre school story hours, one in the spring and one in the fall. Elementary classes, kindergarten classes, head start groups had library tours and programs. The children's librarian met with school librarians both at the main library and at the school.

A spring reading program for pre school mothers was conducted by the library.

The library featured book displays at the Community Service Organizations monthly luncheons related to the theme of the discussion. Staff members presented books at Church Groups, Garden Clubs, and Service Organizations.

Book collections for circulation at the Circleville Manor Nursing Home were picked up on a regular basis by Recreation Director of the Home. An open house was held at the library for the Elected Public Officials.

The Circleville Kiwanis Club made a special visit to the library as part of their program. The library secured 249 Interlibrary Loans from Ohio University, the State Library, and other libraries to provide books and articles not available at the local library.

The library continued its association with the multi-county group - Ohio Valley Area Libraries - the first legally funded Area Library Service Organization.

Through Oval funds, the library acquired new adult non-fiction titles and juvenile books; processing of non-fiction titles at the State Library Catalog Center; Josten's Rental Books, fiction and non-fiction; reference and interlibrary loan service through Ohio University.

Books-By-Mail, 6,981 books, were circulated to Pickaway County borrowers who live on rural routes.

Ohio Arts Council Traveling Exhibits included coal hole cover rubbings and soft images - photography as an art form. "Brightly of Grand Canyon", a movie for children was shown.

Staff attended workshops on reference at Ohio University and the Cincinnati Public Library, also children's services workshops, and circulation desk problems workshop.

The Friends of the Library became an active organization November 12, at the home of Mrs. O. C. West. The purpose of the organization is to support the local library in any area where the need arises and to promote an interest in its services. The founding of the Friends of the Library organization has been declared a bicentennial project, and will become part of the bicentennial efforts of Pickaway County.

The officers are: Mrs. O. C. West, chairman; Mrs. Kermit Dountz, vice-chairman; Mrs. Bishop Given, recording secretary; Mrs. Joseph Peters, corresponding secretary; Rex Haecker, treasurer; Dr. Harold Bowers, member-at-large; Cooke Mtzger, member-at-large.

Those who serve you in the main library are Eleanor Craig, librarian; Jessie Cummings, Eleanor Hancher, Ola Mae Cox, Reference Librarians; Nell Jean Corcoran, Circulation; Mary Jane Buckel, Children's Librarian; Patricia Gentzel, clerk; Cathy Sill, Brenda Webb, Debbie Grewell, student workers. Members of the Board of Trustees are Robert M. Johnson, president, Mrs. John Fissell, Mrs. Paul E. Fenstermaker, Mrs. E. R. Bennett, Mrs. Ralph B. May, Jr., Mrs. Vaughan Dresbach, Mr. Lemuel B. Weldon. Serving as Clerk for the Board - Mrs. Verna Grewell.

Arthritis Battle Can't Be Won Without Help

Revolutionary leaders knew the importance of professional help and sought the aid of France and Spain in the battle against the British - just as victims of arthritis need professional help to fight America's number one crippling disease.

There are nearly 100 types of arthritis diseases which afflict over 20 million American men, women and children. While none can be cured, all can be effectively treated by qualified physicians.

Too many people think that arthritis is hopeless. Physicians now can do a great deal to prevent pain and crippling. Of course, this doesn't mean that the physician can do it alone. An informed, cooperative patient is essential, and there is much that the patient can do at home to make life easier and more comfortable.

A home-care program may include posture techniques and special exercises which maintain muscle strength and keep the joints in the best possible condition, as well as the use of various aids to daily living.

Two special booklets which tell about such self-help have been published by The Arthritis Foundation. One, called "Home Care Programs In Arthritis," is available free. The other, a "Self-Help Manual for Arthritis Patients," may be purchased. For copies, write the Pickaway County Chapter of the Arthritis Foundation, Box 486, Circleville, Ohio 43113. Join the Bicentennial Revolution Against Arthritis, America's number one crippling disease.

Tightened State Job Rules Pushed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) - Launched by a wave of Democratic resentment over state employee layoffs under the Republican administration, a legislative investigation has concluded quietly with a bipartisan report.

The 37-page report of the Joint Select Committee on Civil Service Procedures neither indicts nor endorses the hiring and firing policies of Gov. James A. Rhodes' administration. In fact, it makes no mention of the governor by name.

Included are 18 recommendations aimed at clarifying and tightening up civil service regulations.

The three-month investigation was initiated last November amid charges that Rhodes' cabinet officers were laying off Democrats, based on political considerations and in violation of civil service statutes. The committee report does not allege any violations of law by the administration.

"It says what we've been saying all along," said Chairman Marigene Valiquette, D-11 Toledo. "It's very easy to dance on the edge."

The panel found that 1,762 civil service employees have been laid off since Rhodes took office in January 1975. With new hirings, the net reduction was 1,323.

Rhodes has said payroll cutbacks were necessary because the current two-year budget approved by majority Democrats does not contain enough money to pay for state operations at previous levels. The committee said the governor's order for a two per cent across the board spending cut was also responsible for reducing the amount available for personnel.

Oversight Corrected

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) - The House voted 91-2 Thursday to correct an oversight that apparently permits shock probation after a month's incarceration for felons such as murderers, rapists and others convicted of serious crimes.

Rep. Alan E. Norris, R-27 Westerville, asked the House to close the loophole as a result of a Feb. 15 Ohio Supreme Court decision holding that shock probation is permissible under present law.

Norris, chief sponsor of Ohio's new criminal code, said many attorneys were caught by surprise on the court decision. "That certainly wasn't our intention," he said.

Apparently, the new code left intact the ban against regular probation for murderers and other serious offenders but failed to specifically prohibit shock probation for the same offenders.

The bill now goes to the Senate.

County Education Board Receives Federal Funds

County Superintendent of Schools Edward J. Martin reported to the county board of education at their regular monthly meeting that he had been informed by Ohio University that a proposal submitted for federal funds by OU and the Pickaway County Board had received final approval.

The grant was approved for $23,000 with the county board providing five per cent funds and will permit 36 teachers at the high school level in the county schools to participate in the program this summer.

Each teacher will receive 10 quarter hours of graduate credit, free tuition and $75 per week stipend for the two-week workshop.

The board approved purchase of $9,000 worth of films under Title II for the media center now serving a five county area.

A resolution to participate in federal programs on a matching financial basis under Title 4C was also approved.

Mrs. Shirley Wylie, work-study coordinator, was granted a four-year contract; Gary Waggoner, school psychologist, a two-year contract; Miss Angie Stewart, secretary, a two-year contract; and Miss Shannon Brown, clerk-typist audio-visual technician, a two-year contract.

Waggoner was present to report to the board on his attendance at the National School Psychologists Annual Meeting in Kansas City, Mo. March 23-27.

Superintendent Martin reported to the board on the evaluation of the Pickaway County Teachers' Institute on March 12. Teachers' response to the institute was extremely positive and it was the consensus that the various programs were inspirational and educational.

In other action, the board purchased $150,000 worth of fire insurance from Pickaway Mutual Insurance Association to cover films in the media center at an annual premium of $465.

Superintendent Martin reported to the board that he had received a communique from Dr. Frank Walter, deputy superintendent of public instruction, indicating that all school employees must conform to the tuberculin screening test law and could not be exempt as are students whose parents object on religious grounds.

A copy of the estimation of student enrollment for the county schools prepared by the state department of education was distributed to the members. Although student population in the county schools has increased 40 per cent over the last ten years indications are that the county schools are continuing to grow but not as rapidly in the previous ten-year period.

Board members attending the National School Boards Association Meeting are Everett Beers, Mrs. Bonnie Hildenbrand, Nelson Jones and Harold Lindsey.

Jury Finds Man Guilty

A guilty verdict was returned Thursday afternoon by a jury of 12 seated in the morning to hear the case against Jacob T. Marshall. Marshall, represented by local attorney P. Eugene Long, had been arrested by State Highway Patrolman Ronald Lewis and was charged with receiving stolen property.

The case for the state of Ohio was presented by county prosecutor Richard Gerhardt and showed that Marshall was driving an auto which had been stolen from a Columbus parking lot.

Judge William Ammer, after receiving the jury's verdict, proceeded to sentence Marshall to a term of 18 months to five years at the Ohio Penitentiary.

Track Team Looks To 7th SCOL Title

By KELLY STEELE

With the goal to win the SCOL title for the seventh consecutive year in mind, the 1976 track team held their first dual meet Tuesday against Washington C.H.

Coach Jim Lint explained that last year's team had the best sophomore class he had ever coached, and because they are returning this year the season looks "very bright."

The 14 returning lettermen composing the nucleus of the team are seniors-Jim Cordle, Tom England, Mike McCoy, George Moore, Alan VanVliet, and Warren Yamarick; juniors-Tom McGuire, Frank Merrill, Bill Mogan, Jeff Moorehead, Dave Phillips, Harl Stevenson, Tom Taylor, and Dave Uland.

Lint explained that the strong points of the team are the distance group—Mike McCoy, Joel Baker, Tom McGuire, Frank Merrill, Tim Millstead, Tom Taylor, Dave Uland, Greg Berrigan, and Joe Leahy; high and low hurdles—George Moore, Dave Phillips, and Dave Marshall; and Warren Yamarick running the 100-yard and 200-yard dashes.

Lint was also very optimistic about the field events: shot put, discus, and high jump. He stated that the only particular problem was a lack of sprinters.

Along with their "first and foremost goal" to win the SCOL title again, Lint commented that he hoped the team would do well at the sectionals and district meet so as to get people to the state meet.

Coach Lint feels that the key factor for a strong team is that "the individual must have a great desire to win because track is mainly an individual sport and that it actually depends on the individual himself."

The team has had two indoor meets already, and they came in third overall in the Central District Indoor Meet. Lint feels this is exceptionally good "considering we haven't had some of our main trackmen who have been tied up with basketball."

As for competition in the SCOL, Lint predicted that Hillsboro, Miami Trace, and Wilmington would be their toughest competitors, with Washington C.H. being the "darkhorse."

Prom Plans Completed

By DEB DOWNEY

"We're working really hard, and we're expecting the prom to go over really well," commented Betsy Ankrom, junior class prom chairman.

The theme for the junior-senior prom this year is based on the fantasy "Treasure Island." A combination of walls, bandstand, ceiling, and entrance committees are all working to produce a vivid picture for the event.

Parents of the junior class officers are sponsoring an after-prom party at the Coliseum after the dance. Parents of members of the junior class have received letters asking for support and financial aid. They are encouraged to respond to these letters in order for the party to be successful.

The band "Divine Comedy" will be playing for the prom from 8 until 11:30, while "Gold Rush" will be the entertainment for the after-prom party from 12 midnight until 4. "It's guaranteed to be a night of fun, festivity, and fantasy" stated Steve Lust, advisor for the event.

Club Notes

By DIANNE GREEN

Next Saturday the club will be collecting for the Easter Seals Society in the downtown area.

Plans are being made for the annual Mother-Daughter Banquet scheduled for the last week in April.

The Easter party for first grade children will be held during school on April 14.

The club will be canvassing the city on April 24 for the Cancer Crusade. The next meeting will be Tuesday after school in the cafeteria.

DECA
The annual DECA Employer-Employee Banquet was held last evening at Steele's Restaurant.

The club will soon be electing officers for next year.

Annual Staff
The annual staff is making plans for next year's book.

Choir and Ensemble
Mrs. Candice Rigo will leave her position as director today, due to pregnancy. She will be replaced by Miss Debbie Fannin.

The group is preparing for the annual Spring Concert, May 7.

AFS
The American Field Service Club is preparing for the bus trip to be made by approximately 40 foreign students visiting this area. The students will tour the area on their way to New York to return home July 5-10.

Key Club
This week the Key Club hosted the Division 10-S Council Meeting. Gahanna Lincoln, Fairfield Union, Lancaster, Lancaster Fisher, and Teays Valley High Schools all sent representatives.

Donations to the Cancer Society, Easter Seals, Lung Association, and the City of Hope Hospital were approved by the board of education recently. Plans to sponsor an overseas child through the Christian Children's Fund were also approved.

Nine club members will attend the Ohio District Convention, April 10 and 11, in Dayton.

The club will celebrate its 20th anniversary at CHS by entertaining the Circleville Kiwanis Club at a carry-in dinner on April 19.

During prohibition new Straitsville, Perry County, Ohio became famous for the amount of "moonshine" whisky produced in the abandoned coal mines of the district.

Girls' Track Added To Athletic Program

By GAIL MORRISON

Girls' track is a new outlook on the female athletic program this year at Circleville High School.

Track coach Joy O'Brien feels that the season looks very promising and exciting. She stated, "The girls should compete well in league play; however, they may have problems with the county schools as they have had previous experience in the track area."

When asked if she felt that the sport seemed different compared to her other coaching positions, Miss O'Brien commented, "Yes, definitely! I have never coached an individual sport as such."

The girls' track team seems to be fairly strong in the running events and weak in the field events concluded Coach O'Brien.

Members of the team include Vickie Adams, Sue Crist, Linda Davies, Viv Davis, Sue Doering, Kathy Fisher, Patty Ford, Pat Heacock, Barb Hively, Joyce Hoffman, Tammy Hoffman, Debbie Judd, Lisa Leahy, Vickie Loucks, Nattie Martin, Tammy Merrill, Paula Mosley, Nancy Radcliff, Kim Thomas, and Peggy Wood.

Following is the schedule:
April 5 Miami Trace 4:30
April 12 Uniontown & Westfall 4:30
April 20 at Wilmington 4:30
April 21 at Westfall & Paint Valley 5:00

New England Rains End

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Some rain lingered in Maine this morning but generally ended over the remainder of New England as a cold front moved away from the area. However, heavy rain yesterday caused flooding of rivers in New Hampshire, Vermont and eastern New York.

Rain and snow fell from eastern Michigan into West Virginia and western Pennsylvania.

There was also some unsettled weather in the northern Rockies as a cold front moved through the area. Snow fell over much of Montana, northern Wyoming and southeast Idaho. Cloud cover is spreading into the northern plains and central Rockies ahead of the precipitation.

Clear skies prevailed from the southern Atlantic coast across the Mississippi valley into the central and southern plains. Clear or partly cloudy conditions were noted over the plateau and Pacific coast regions and southern Rockies.

Temperatures overnight ranged from 73 at Key West, Fla., to 19 at Elko, Nev.

MARY DAYS

By BARBARA BOYER

This week's new student is junior, Mary Days. She comes from Beaver, where she attended Eastern High School.

"The people are friendlier at Eastern than they are here, but Circleville prepares you better for college," commented Mary when asked her reaction to CHS.

Mary was involved in track, pep club, Spanish Club, and the newspaper staff at Eastern.

Her likes are Joey, pizza, sports, and movies. Her dislikes are being away from Joey and bad weather.

She resides at 223 Watt St. with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Woodroe J. Conley and her three brothers.

Ann Titus Wins Second In 100 Yard Butterfly

By KELLY STEELE

With the fantastic time of 1:00.42, Ann Titus gained a second place berth last Saturday in the 100-yard butterfly at the Ohio AAU Short-Course Championships held at Upper Arlington Natatorium.

Ann, a junior at CHS, swam representing the John Bruce Swim Club of Columbus. She also received two 8th places in the 100-yard backstroke with a time of 1:04.5 and in the 200-yard individual medley with a time of 2:18.8.

She said she has been practicing every night for two hours since October, swimming approximately four miles during each practice. Ann plans to continue swimming this summer and will swim next winter either with the Chillicothe Marlins or again under John Bruce.

Senior Steve Penn and sophomore Dave Cook also represented the John Bruce Swim Club at the championship. Steve commented, "Ann swam extremely well, just barely missing her goal of breaking one minute."

ANN TITUS

Ann resides with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Titus and her younger brother, Bill.

Guidance Guidelines

A wide variety of special workshops, seminars, and summer school opportunities are being offered to high school students as a means of enriching their educational experiences. In some cases college-level credit is offered for these programs.

An extensive listing of science and math-oriented programs, sponsored by the National Science Foundation, is available to students who have these interests. Usually preference is given to current juniors who have an additional year of high school remaining. Students should contact Mrs. Lois Heffelfinger for further information.

Hocking Technical College is sponsoring a program to assist women in planning their futures. Called "Goals, Resources, and Opportunities for Women," it is open to women of all ages and educational levels and will be held Tuesday from 7-9:30 p.m. at the Hocking Tech campus in Nelsonville. Registration forms are available from the guidance office.

Recent information has also been received regarding the Ohio War Orphans Scholarship for children of disabled and deceased veterans. Applications for this program are available in the guidance office. Also, information about the Kissinger Scholarship Program, for children of service personnel officially designated as missing in action or killed in action in the Indo-China theatre after Dec. 11, 1961, is available from the Veterans Service Office in Circleville.

A college night program to provide information about the Ohio University Chillicothe campus will be held at the Stevenson Center at OUC from 5 to 8 p.m. Thursday. All interested persons are invited to attend.

See Big Harvest For Coming Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — Although farmers have not yet planted their spring crops, including corn, Agriculture Department officials are expressing optimism that 1976 grain production will be huge and that the United States can respond to growing world demands for food.

Meanwhile, despite drought damage to the winter wheat crop in parts of the Great Plains, the weather has been generally cooperative in letting farmers get off to a rapid start in field work this spring.

But for practical purposes, this is a pre-dawn period for farmers. Huge 1975 crops are harvested but most of this year's grain production is on the drawing board. USDA officials have been playing hunches and odds for some time in talking about 1976 harvests.

Assistant Secretary Richard E. Bell, who oversees domestic and international programs for USDA, said Thursday the United States failed to meet its full production capacity in 1975 but that the situation should improve this year.

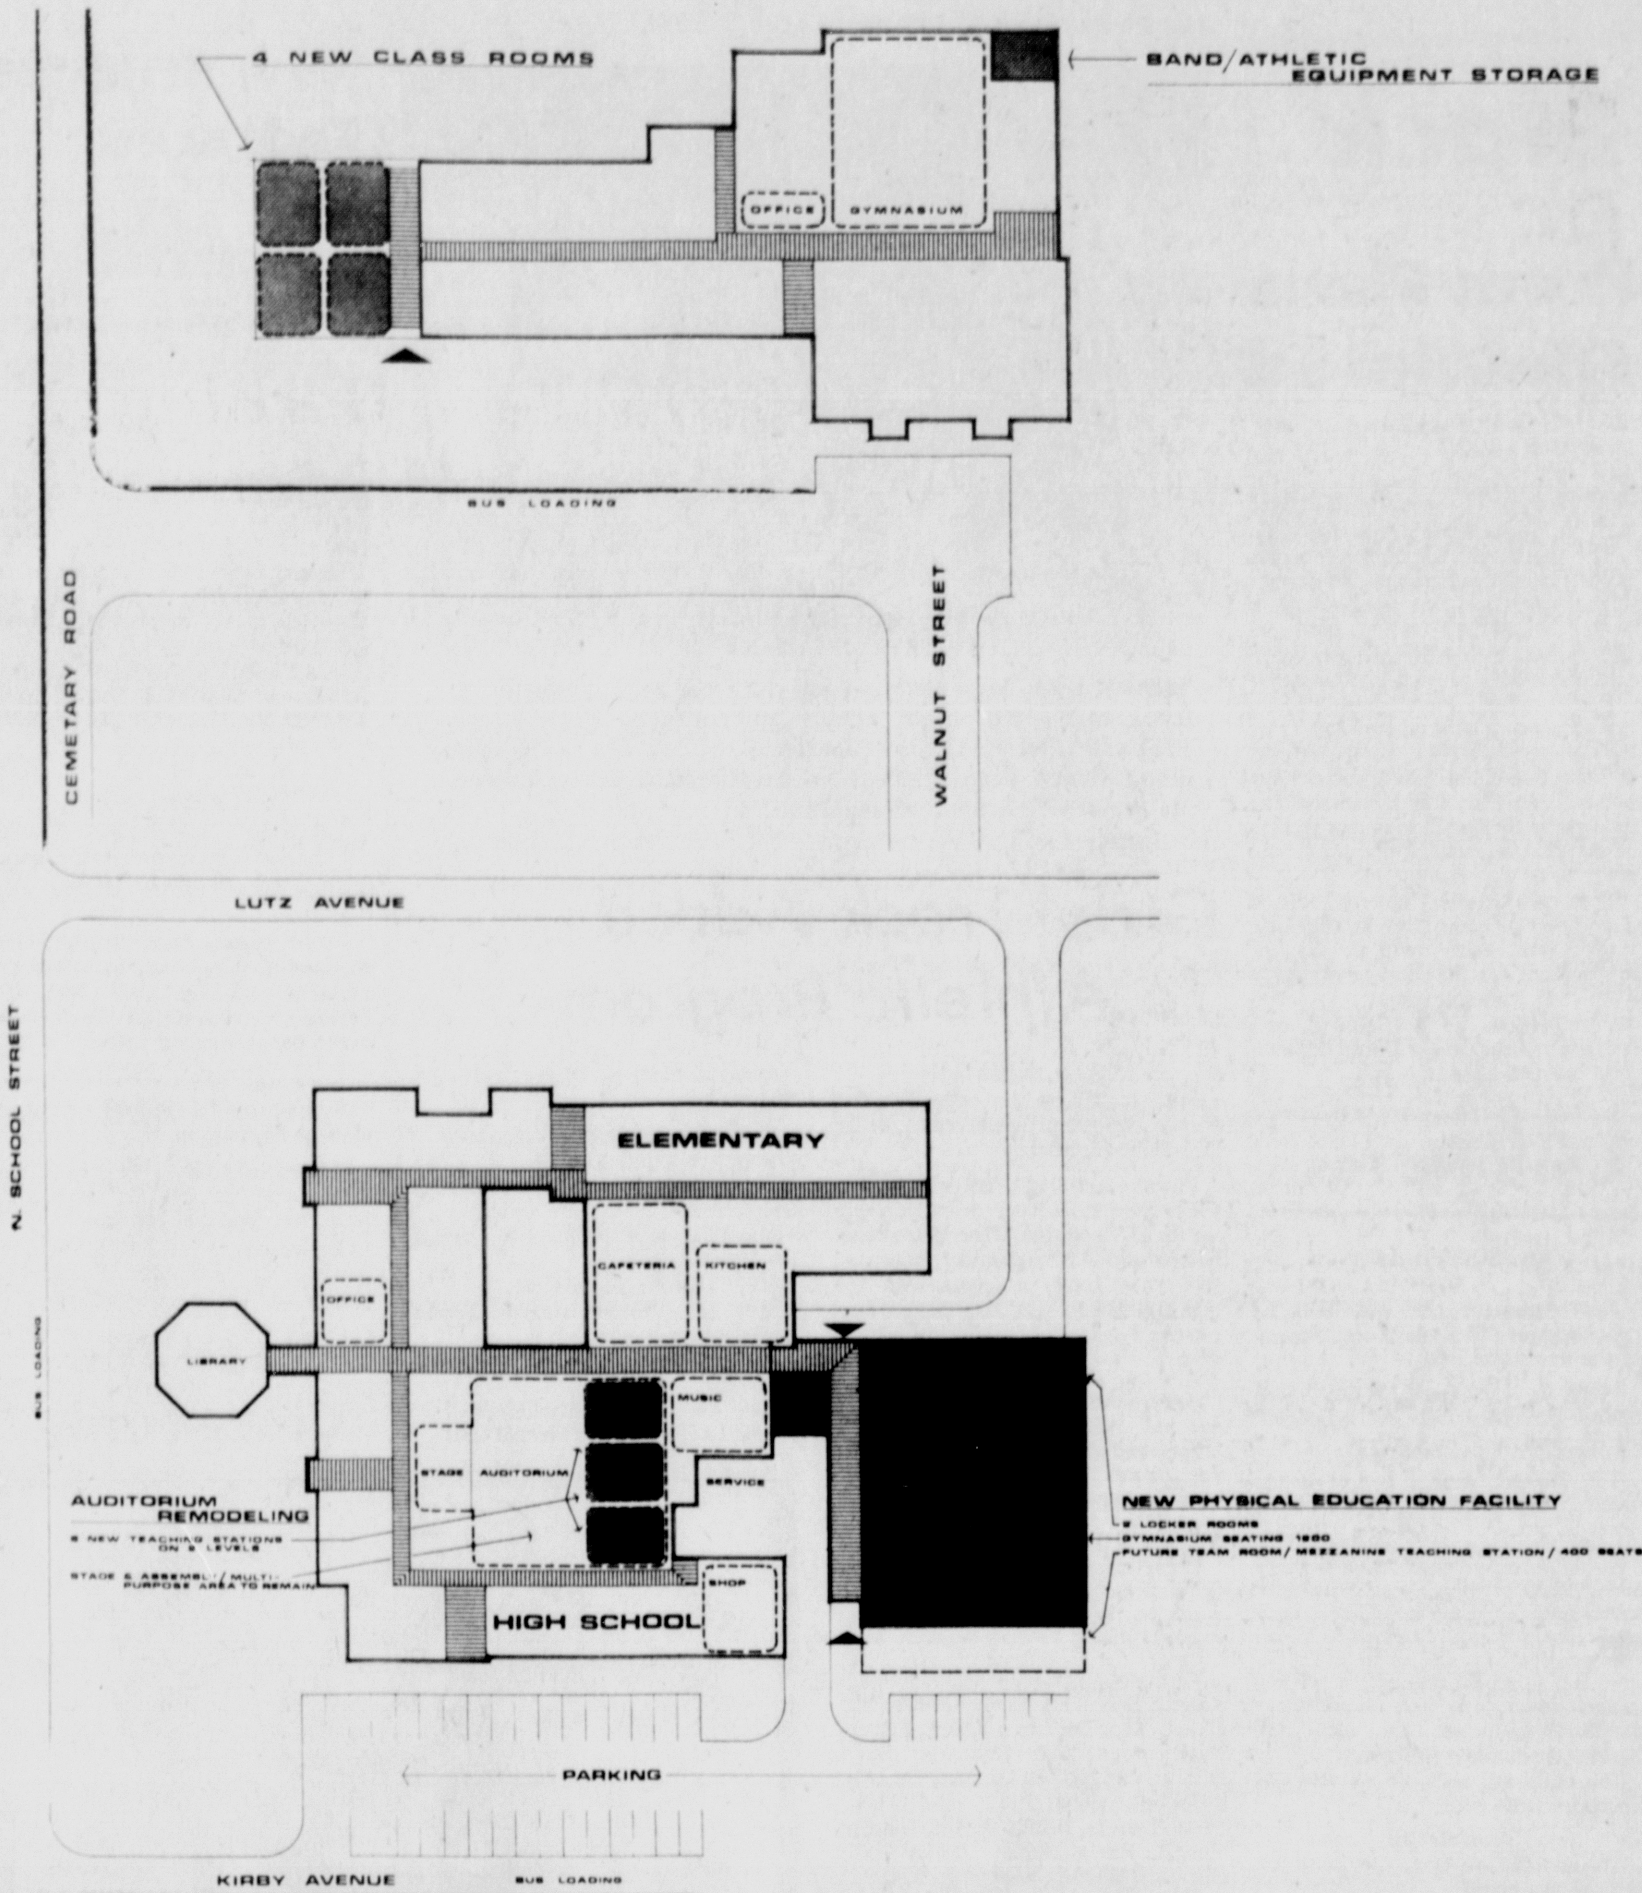

"We expect to produce another record grain crop in 1976 despite drought in the Southwest," Bell said in a San Diego, Calif., speech. "We will produce less wheat, but probably more corn than in 1975."

Bell was speaking generally about recent trends in global demands and how American farmers have responded. Because of a growth in world population and higher per capita incomes, demand for U.S. grain will continue to grow, he said.

Bell has not been alone in predicting that 1976 grain production will set new benchmarks. Given "normal" weather over the next five or six months and the size of spring plantings now indicated, total output this year probably will produce bumper harvests.

Official USDA production estimates are months away. Some surveys in the near future will help analysts make calculated "projections" of 1976 output, but those can turn out to be flimsy assessments if dry weather hits the Corn Belt or some new kind of corn blight emerges.

Indiana passed a right-to-work law in 1957.

PROPOSED PLANS — Blueprints for the proposed expansion of the Amanda and Stoutsville school buildings in the Amanda-Clearcreek School District are shown above. The school district is asking for a bond issue on the April 8 special election to support the school expansions. At the Amanda building, top, the plans include addition of four new classrooms and a band-athletic equipment storage area.

Shaded areas in the lower picture indicate the expansion of the Stoutsville Building. Plans include the addition of a new physical education facility and remodeling of the old auditorium to provide for five new teaching stations. The stage, assembly and multi-purpose area in the old auditorium are to remain the same.

Bedsheet Ballot Measure Approved

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — June primary voters may be spared the long lines and lengthy paper ballots that annoyed and confused Ohioans in the 1972 presidential primary.

The General Assembly sent Gov. James A. Rhodes Thursday a bill that supporters say would do away with bedsheet ballots and streamline primary voting procedures. If the governor signs the measure it could apply to the June 8 primary.

Here is the primary ballot picture as it appears today under the provisions of the bill:

Statewide at-large delegate slates, which appear on every ballot, would be selected by bloc vote. That means voters would see only the name of the presidential candidate to which the delegates are pledged.

In the case of the Democratic party, which selects 38 at-large delegates and 19 alternates, election officials would have to print 228 delegate names under current law to accommodate the four candidates in the race in Ohio. With the bill, only the four candidates' names would appear.

In the 23 congressional districts, where separate delegate slates are elected in addition to the at-large delegates, the two major political parties could choose either bloc voting or individual delegate balloting.

Democratic party rules already require individual selection of delegates in the districts, meaning voters will see four to seven delegate names for each candidate plus alternates. Voters won't have the option of casting a single vote for the candidate heading the slate.

Republican primary rules are not yet set. But if the GOP decides to elect delegates individually in the districts, voters can expect to see three delegates pledged to President Ford plus alternates, and three for Ronald Reagan in districts where he has qualified. Again, these would be in addition to the box provided for the single vote on the statewide slate. In the GOP race, Ford's statewide at-large slate is unopposed.

Laborer Wins Ohio Lottery

CLEVELAND (AP) — A Conneaut laborer says his winning of the Ohio Lottery's Buckeye 1,000 contest Thursday will help ease him into retirement.

"At my age, the most important thing is that the money will solve my retirement problems," said 58-year-old George J. Gleason. He will receive $1,000 a month for life and is guaranteed $400,000.

As for how else he's going to spend his winnings, Gleason said "I'm going to find a quiet, secluded place to think about it. I purposely wasn't going to spend anything in my mind until I saw the money."

He is the father of three and he operates machines for a welding company in Ashtabula.

Ohio Lottery spokesmen said the other winners were George Reichert of Celina, $4,000; Charles Miller of LaRue, $3,000; Maurice Gordon of Islip, N.Y., $2,000; Don Matthews of Indianapolis, $1,000.

Willie's Dillies

By BILL McGAFFNEY
Herald Sports Editor

We were sitting around a table in one of the coffee shops downtown the other day—discussing this, that and what have you—when the subject suddenly became the generation gap and what is wrong with the kids of today.

Well, we went on record there and we will go on record here—There is nothing wrong with the kids of today and we don't even know what they mean by a generation gap.

One fellow made the statement that "you can't even talk to these kids today"—This is the secret behind their whole problem—These young people today don't want you to Talk "To" Them—All they ask is that you talk "With" Them.

They also have something to say and only ask for a chance to be heard. It was no different when we were kids and it will always be the same.

In our line of work, we are fortunate enough to get around the schools and have the opportunity to "chew the fat" with these young people.

We are mostly involved with the athletes but also have a chance to talk with the other youngsters we are privileged to meet.

Oh, once in a while a couple of kids get into trouble, and unfortunately give the rest of them a bad name—But for every bad kid around—We can show you a hundred good ones.

A couple of years ago we had a bad heart attack which laid us up for quite awhile and left Jerry with a lot of things on her hands.

We can't tell you how many young people called Jerry and asked her if they could come down and take care of the yard and other chores around the place—All gratis, of course.

We don't believe there is anything such as a generation gap—if it is referred to in a derogatory manner in regard to the youngsters—the only generation gap we consider is age, and this can easily be taken care of by being considerate and listening to each others problems.

So from our seat in the press box, we say—You have to give a little and take a little—And believe us—With this fine group of young people getting ready to move into the driver's seat before long—In our book, it looks like a long, smooth road ahead.

Our "fearless" forecast—Look for the "Happy Mex" (Lee Trevino) to shake the hex and win the Greater Greensboro Open . . . In the girls State cage meet, we like Adena in A, Warren Champion in AA and Cincinnati Sycamore in AAA.

Until next time, have a nice day—be a good sport.

Jack Billingham Worried By Success

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Jack Billingham, having his best spring ever, is worried. The Cincinnati Reds pitcher said he always has at least one lapse and is afraid it will happen this year after the season starts.

Billingham has not walked a single batter in 12 innings this spring and allowed the Chicago White Sox only a run on four hits while striking out four in six innings Thursday.

The Reds won 3-2 and now have a spring record of 5-4. The White Sox are 5-8. The clubs meet again today at Sarasota.

"I've been out three times," said

Aces '9' Loses To Lions, 5-3

Amanda-Clearcreek dropped a 5-3 decision to Liberty Union Thursday in a game called after six innings due to bad weather.

Liberty Union opened the scoring with a single marker in the bottom of the first but the Aces tied it up with a run in the top of the third.

But the Lions tallied twice in the bottom of the third but once again the Aces battled back with a pair in the top of the fourth to knot the count.

However, Liberty Union pushed across another two runs in the bottom of the fourth and that was the ball game.

Cloyce Hartley went 2-2-3 innings on the mound for the Aces, allowing three hits, two walks and four strike outs.

Mark Bitler went the rest of the way, giving up two hits, no walks and struck out four.

Kevin Glasspoole went all the way for Liberty Union. He gave up five hits, three walks while fanning nine.

Doug Starner slammed a double for the Aces while Ed Thompson, Jim Destadio, Keith Kelley and Jim Smith each rapped a single.

Steve Turley carried the heavy load for Liberty Union with two two-run homers and Lucky Castle added a double and single.

The Aces committed one error in the game and the Lions misplayed the ball twice.

Amanda-Clearcreek is now 1-1 for the season, 0-1 in the Mid State and will be home 4:30 p.m. today with Ohio Deaf.

Tigers Wrap Up Fine Cage Year

By BILL McGAFFNEY
Herald Sports Editor

We had a chance to sit down with Circleville coach Jim Bailey in his office the other day and discuss the fine basketball season that just ended in which the Tigers not only compiled a 22-2 record and were Regional runners-up but also put a total of 21 new marks in the book.

According to our findings this is the farthest any Pickaway County team has ever gone in the tournament.

It seemed the whole season was exemplified by Bailey when he said "Despite the great disappointment of the loss handed us, the experience in Dayton was a totally wholesome one. The behavior of our young men and cheerleaders was always of the highest standards during our stay in Dayton. Our kids were humble in victory, gracious in defeat and nothing but ladies and gentlemen at all times. I could never be prouder of anyone."

Individual records set by the 1975-76 Tigers were: George Moore, 169 defensive rebounds, 106 offensive rebounds, 275 total rebounds, 36 turn-overs, 72 steals, 65.6 field goal percentage and 74.2 free throw percentage; Biff Bumgarner, 37 jump ball recoveries, 191 field goals made, 122 free throws made, 504 total points; Mike McCoy, 68 assists; Warren Yamarick, 19 charges taken.

Team records set were: 313 offensive rebounds, 828 total rebounds, 131 jump ball recoveries, 301 steals, 67 charges taken. The Tigers also set records by holding the opposition to 183 offensive rebounds, causing 518 turn-overs and limiting them to 52.9 points per game.

There was a look of pride on the face of Bailey as we talked of repeating as South Central Ohio League champions and ending the season as one of the top eight teams from a starting field of nearly 300.

He was especially proud of ending the season with six of the last seven games on the road and the boys who won them all.

We discussed the highlights of the past season and what were really the contributing factors to making the season successful.

He felt that Logan Elm was a big game because of the respect and admiration the Tigers have for coach Asa Bradbury and his Braves. Bailey considered this the Tigers best complete defensive game of the year and the great pressure defense of Tigers was a key factor in a top season.

Some of the other game highlights were: The Miami Trace game where the Tigers converted 21 of 23 fouls in the fourth quarter and Moore contributed 10 points during the period; the hard-fought victory at Wilmington; the home victory over Madison Plains to clinch the league and avenge their only loss; the 44-43 poise victory at Washington C.H.

One thing that stands out in Bailey's mind is the first three-overtime game of his career at Hillsboro.

"We went into the overtime periods at Hillsboro without George Moore who had fouled out in regulation time. Mancini and Yamarick got key buckets in the overtime to keep us in the game and Mike McCoy, who played a great floor game, won the game with a 25-foot jump shot in the closing seconds. But, it was Biff Bumgarner who held us in the game and just refused to allow us to lose," Bailey commented on the victory.

"The thing that sticks with me in the tournament was that we received solid performances from everyone. While Biff carried us through the season, Moore came on strong in tournament play," Bailey said.

"The Bexley game was our tournament highlight on both offense and defense as we dominated the game. Biff tallied 27 points, 13 of 15 from the floor, Moore had 22 and Mike McCoy did an outstanding defensive job by holding Bexley's high scoring Todd Millard to six points.

"Brent Mancini got stronger and better as the season went along and was a key to our success. I'll never forget his courage in taking a charging foul when he was just coming back from his operation. And the fine defensive play and timely scoring of Frank Merrill and Warren Yamarick," Bailey stated.

Bailey had nothing but praise for the athletes, school, community, coaching staff, school administration and the support of the Circleville Athletic Booster Club.

"Circleville athletes in general are outstanding, especially in these times, because they are anything but drop outs — Instead of dropping out, they jump in with enthusiasm. I believe that this desire to participate when coupled with the great school and community support is what sets our athletic program apart from others," Bailey commented.

"A thing that has made my job a lot easier has been the efficiency that exists from top to bottom in our athletic program. I can't imagine how anyone could do a better job as athletic director than Larry Cook. The encouragement and cooperation among the various sports couldn't be better.

"Finally, I would like to acknowledge the outstanding job done by my coaching staff, Dennis Stewart, Jim Diltz, Ty Ankrom and Ron Malone. The importance of their contribution in terms of fundamentals, building proper attitude and scouting cannot be over emphasized. We have already begun preparations for another successful season," Bailey concluded.

And, certainly not to be overlooked for their importance in building the fine season for the Tigers are the boys providing the bench strength—Rusty Holbrook, Jeff Williams, Tom Taylor, Brian Fath, Wendell Perkins, Eric Pontius, Tim Milstead and Toren Bensonhaver.

LE Thinclads Drop Meet

Despite the inclement weather, Logan Elm's track squad opened its 1976 season Thursday but dropped a 80-1-3 to 46-2-3 verdict to a strong Bexley team on the Lion's track.

First place finishes for the Braves went to: Pat Williams, discus, 113 feet 9 inches; Lonnie Maxson, pole vault, 9 feet 6 inches, called due to weather, no misses; Randy Watkins, 100-yard dash, 11.1; 880 Relay team, Mike Patrick, Tom Davis, Tim Davis, Brian Hannigan, 1:43.

Placing second for the Logan Elm cindermen were: Seth Driesbach, shot, 43 feet 7½ inches; Wayne Linthicum, long jump, 17 feet 8½ inches; Rock Huggins, high jump, 5 feet 8 inches; Brock Bell, pole vault, 9 feet 6 inches, one miss; Tim Davis, 220-yard dash, 24.9.

Gaining third spots for the Redmen were: Mike Patrick, 17 feet 4¼ inches; Dave Calton and Terry Wright, tie, high jump, 5 feet 6 inches; Terry Hampton, 120 high hurdles, 17.5; Mike Patrick, 100-yard dash, 11.5; Dave Calton, 180 low hurdles, 24.5; Terry Hampton, 220-yard dash, 26.3; Joe Scanlan, 2-mile, 11:34.

"We were very pleased with the results after competing in the miserable weather against a strong Bexley team," said Logan Elm coach Bill Frost and assistant Steve Varney.

Bo Schembechler Tested At Hospital

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Michigan football coach Bo Schembechler was still undergoing diagnostic tests Thursday and was to be hospitalized at least another three or four days, officials at St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital said.

Doctors said the coach was listed in satisfactory condition after being admitted to the hospital Tuesday with a temperature of 101 degrees and some discomfort in his chest.

McMullen, Berning Share Golf Lead

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Kathy McMullen wandered into the press tent, glanced up at the scoreboard and sighed, "Love those scores."

The one she was most interested in was a 68 next to her name. Miss McMullen, who finished second in the Dinah Shore Winners Circle Golf Championship last year, and Susie Berning each had 68s Thursday to share the opening-round lead of this year's edition of the $200,000 tournament at Mission Hills Country Club.

"I had a 76 in the opening round last year," Miss McMullen recalled. "I like this better."

Her putting, sharp at times, cost her the uncontested lead. She three-putted both the first and 14th holes for bogeys, then missed two six-footers for birdies on the 16th and 17th.

But Miss McMullen, who lost the Winners Circle by a stroke to Sandra Palmer last year, said she's confident her game is in top-notch condition.

"I feel like I'm hitting the ball better now than I had in the past," she said. "I just hope I can play with more consistency."

While Miss McMullen's putting was erratic, Mrs. Berning had no trouble with hers.

"I dug out an old putter," she remarked, "and it seemed to do the job."

She had five one-putt greens and never three-putted as she carded four birdies on the back nine en route to a 32 after posting a par 36 on the front nine of the 6,370-yard, par-72 Mission Hills

CHS Racket Squad Loses Match, 3-2

Circleville's tennis team opened the season Thursday at Greenfield, under anything but the best weather conditions and suffered a 3-2 setback.

Dave Crawford defeated Eric Dunson, 8-6; Jeff Williams dropped an 8-1 decision to Kevin McNeil; and Jon Berlin was defeated by Jim Jones, 9-7, in the singles matches.

Tim Dietrich and Jim Edgington were defeated by Tim Smith and Marty Taylor, 8-5, and Mark Beck and Chip Follis lost to Gary Pristas and Kevin Curren, 8-1, in the doubles.

Circleville will be at Wilmington 4:30 p.m. Tuesday.

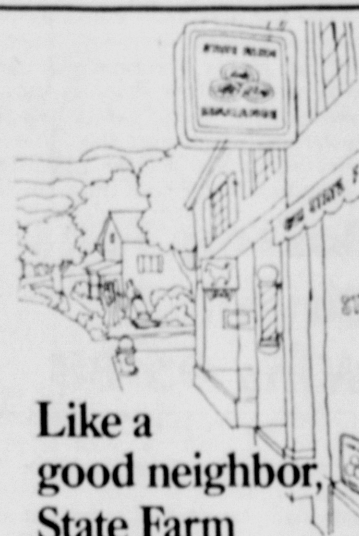

Lurking just a stroke back of the leaders of the first 18 holes were Jane Blalock and Jan Stephenson, both at three-under-par 69.

Miss Blalock won the first Winners Circle tournament back in 1972 and Miss Stephenson was the LPGA's rookie of the year in 1974.

In a cluster at 70 were Kathy Whitworth, Gloria Ehret, Janet LePera, Carol Mann, Pat Bradley and Joann Washam.

Miss Palmer began defense of her title on a sour note, carding a 76 Thursday.

Sandra Haynie had a 74 but picked up $5,000 when she scored a hole-in-one on the 165-yard, par-3 eighth hole. Miss Haynie rolled in a three-iron shot for the second ace of her career.

Expos Edge Red Sox; Win 6-5

By BOB GREENE
AP Sports Writer

It was only the second loss of the exhibition season for Boston, the defending American League champions, but Red Sox Manager Darrell Johnson was pleased with what he saw.

What Johnson observed was strong pitching by starter Reggie Cleveland, who went five innings, and relievers Jim Willoughby and Tom House.

"Reggie had the best stuff he's had all spring, but he was up high too much," Johnson said after the Montreal Expos broke a 3-3 tie in the top of the 13th inning and went on to take a 6-5 victory.

Cleveland gave up three runs, one unearned, on seven hits. But he struck out five and didn't walk a batter. The loss was suffered by rookie Mark Bombardier, who was tagged for six hits in three innings.

Larry Bittner slammed a two-run single to cap Montreal's winning 13th inning rally. The Expos also were led by Larry Parrish's three hits.

The Red Sox came back in the bottom of the 13th, scoring two runs on Butch Hobson's double, singles by Tim Blackwell and Cecil Cooper, a sacrifice and an infield out. But it was not enough.

Chicago Cubs pitcher Bill Bonham also put on a stingy performance, tossing a one-hit shutout against the slugging Oakland A's for five innings. Bonham then yielded the A's only run in the sixth before Oscar Zamora and Mike Garman hurled hitless ball the rest of the way. Meanwhile, Jose Cardenal doubled and scored a run, then singled across another as the Cubs downed Oakland 4-1.

Baltimore's Mike Torrez was sailing along with a one-hitter, facing the minimum 15 batters through the first five innings before Atlanta erupted. Rowland Office and Dave May each drove in two runs as the Atlanta Braves exploded for five runs in the sixth inning and took to a 5-3 victory over the Orioles.

Jerry Martin drove in five runs, three with a first-inning homer, to help the Philadelphia Phillies slam St. Louis 16-7. When the Cards closed to 8-7 with three runs in the bottom of the sixth, Philadelphia wrapped it up with eight runs in the ninth, including a two-run homer by Bobby Tolan.

The Giants were out 13-5, but San Francisco came away with a 5-3 victory as a single by Willie Montanez and a triple by Ken Reitz drove in three runs in the fifth.

A bases-loaded double by Tom Poquette in the eighth inning lifted the Kansas City Royals over the New York Yankees 4-3. Jamie Quirk's solo homer and Frank White's RBI double accounted for the other Kansas City runs.

Cleveland's Joe Lis' three-run blast with two out in the ninth sent the Indians to a 5-4 victory over Milwaukee.

Pair Tied In Greensboro Open

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Some "pot luck" iron shots, a brand-new putter and some wet, shivering pickets were the first-round features in the $230,000 Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament.

"The fairways were so muddy you were just playing pot luck out there," said big Jimmy Wiechers, who survived his difficulties Thursday with a five-under-par 66 that gave him a tie for the lead with old pro Gay Brewer.

Brewer, using a new putter in competition for the first time, got his share of first place late in the cold, windy, cloudy, occasionally drizzly day with eagles on two of his last four holes.

Included in their galleries — in the dismal weather that has become a fixture at this old tournament — were some shivering, placard-carrying NBC technicians who are on strike and were picketing the cameras that are scheduled to provide national television coverage of portions of the final two rounds Saturday and Sunday. The show will go on, NBC officials said.

Boston Tops Cavaliers; Wins 95-88

CLEVELAND (AP) — Charlie Scott had 'em "Dancin' in Washington" Thursday night as he exploded for 30 points in Boston's 95-88 National Basketball Association victory over Cleveland.

The Celtics, who came into the game with apparently little to kindle their competitive fire, took it to the Cavaliers and knocked them right out of first place in the NBA Central Division.

Cleveland went into the game with a .003 percentage point edge over the Washington Bullets. To the chagrin of a home throng of 19,392, Scott's 18-point, third-quarter barrage signaled the end of the Cavs' overnight stay on top.

The Boston-Cleveland contest was the only game Thursday in the NBA. There were no American Basketball Association games scheduled.

"Ain't that something," lamented Cleveland Coach Bill Fitch. "We're supposed to be happy this time of the year, with a playoff spot clinched. But they're dancing in Washington tonight."

"I told the guys, though, in our team period after the game, we can be (division) champions if we win six games," he added. "We just have those six games left. We can win five of six and, if we're good enough to do that, we're good enough to win all six."

"If we don't win the championship, we've made the playoffs and we can get ready to do it all there. I told the players we could learn some things from tonight," Fitch said.

Jabbar NBA's Top Player

NEW YORK (AP) — The Los Angeles Lakers are in danger of missing the National Basketball Association playoffs, but their 7-foot-3½ center, Kareem Abdul-Jabbar has grabbed the league's Most Valuable Player award for the fourth time.

"I'm very flattered to win the award," Abdul-Jabbar said. "I didn't expect I would win because it usually goes to a player on a winning team. But I thank the guys I play against for voting for me and I thank the Creator."

Abdul-Jabbar, only the third player in NBA history to win the MVP title four times, leads the league in rebounding, blocked shots and minutes played, and is second to Buffalo's Bob McAdoo in scoring.

The Lakers center received 409 points in edging rival centers McAdoo and Dave Cowens of the Boston Celtics for the award.

McAdoo, who won the MVP trophy last year, finished second with 393 points. Cowens, the 1973 winner, finished third with 378 points in the closest three-way race in NBA history.

In his first season with the Lakers after playing for six years with the Milwaukee Bucks, Abdul-Jabbar won the league's MVP award in 1971, 1972 and 1974. Center Wilt Chamberlain also was a four-time winner and center Bill Russell won it five times.

Two of those were for the eagles that vaulted him past 19 players.

Wiechers, who has yet to gain an official title in nine years of tour activity, said he'd been playing so poorly, "I'm still just trying to make the cut."

They shared a one-stroke advantage over Dave Stockton, U.S. Open champ Lou Graham and Bob Payne, tied at 67.

The group at 68, three under par on the wet, hilly, 6,643-yard Sedgfield Country Club course, were Lee Trevino, Kermit Zarley, Don Bies, DeWitt Weaver, Miller Barber and Allen Miller.

Defending champion Tom Weiskopf headed a large group at 69. Gary Player shot a 72 and 63-year-old Sam Snead, an eight-time winner of this tournament, was at 73.

Jack Nicklaus, Hubert Green, Hale Irwin, Tom Watson, Johnny Miller and Ben Crenshaw skipped this event in favor of practice for next week's Masters, the first of the year's four major championships.

Pair Tied In Greensboro Open

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Some "pot luck" iron shots, a brand-new putter and some wet, shivering pickets were the first-round features in the $230,000 Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament.

"The fairways were so muddy you were just playing pot luck out there," said big Jimmy Wiechers, who survived his difficulties Thursday with a five-under-par 66 that gave him a tie for the lead with old pro Gay Brewer.

Brewer, using a new putter in competition for the first time, got his share of first place late in the cold, windy, cloudy, occasionally drizzly day with eagles on two of his last four holes.

Included in their galleries — in the dismal weather that has become a fixture at this old tournament — were some shivering, placard-carrying NBC technicians who are on strike and were picketing the cameras that are scheduled to provide national television coverage of portions of the final two rounds Saturday and Sunday. The show will go on, NBC officials said.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Charlie Scott had 'em "Dancin' in Washington" Thursday night as he exploded for 30 points in Boston's 95-88 National Basketball Association victory over Cleveland.

The Celtics, who came into the game with apparently little to kindle their competitive fire, took it to the Cavaliers and knocked them right out of first place in the NBA Central Division.

Messersmith To Testify

NEW YORK (AP) — Testimony in the Andy Messersmith-New York Yankees dispute will come today from — of all people — Andy Messersmith.

The star pitcher will be the star witness in the cause celebre over whether his agent did or didn't commit him to the Yankees. The hearing was to be held in the offices of Commissioner Bowie Kuhn who said Thursday he had seen all the documents in question.

"I can't comment on it," Kuhn said after Thursday's four-hour session with representatives of both sides. "Hopefully, I'll have a decision Friday."

Messersmith, who officially became a free agent more than two weeks ago, has allowed Herb Osmond, his agent, do the negotiating for him.

According to today's editions of the New York Times, the two key differences concern the no-cut provision and deferred payments in the memorandum signed by Osmond and Yankee President Gabe Paul and the formal contract Messersmith was later asked to sign. The former Los Angeles Dodger pitcher refused to sign the contract and charged the Yankees with reneging on the deal.

Griffin Replacement On Woody's Mind

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A search for a replacement for Archie Griffin and overall team speed will be the top priorities for Woody Hayes when he launches his 26th Ohio State football coaching season Saturday with the opening of spring practice.

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR SATURDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Place obligations before desires, but do make time for recreation and relaxation. Understanding and cooperation with others will be your key to happy satisfaction.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): A day when you can sit back and rest on your laurels — with warm gratification. Hours after noon splendid for social interests.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): You may have been dwelling too long and too seriously on job matters. Seek out your gayest and most amusing companions and indulge in a bit of fun for a change.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Don't slacken your efforts because others are in a frivolous mood. Consider your own interests — especially now when influences stimulate new ideas for improving your status.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): An unexpected invitation to an evening get-together holds some interesting surprises. Just what you need!

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Follow up a potentially good tip you once brushed aside — but not impulsively or unprepared. For best results, you MUST have a plan.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Misunderstandings likely in unexpected areas. Counteract with your innate poise, tact and a sincere desire to clear the air.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23): Mixed influences. You may encounter some frustrating situations during the a.m., but the tide will turn in your favor later in the day.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 24 to Dec. 23): Caution and conservatism stressed. Above all, avoid persons who are impulsively taking risks.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 24 to Jan. 20): As with many others, some unusual situations indicated. In all dealings, be direct. Avoid devious tactics or approach, and give others the benefit of any doubt.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): If you take minor annoyances in stride, as Aquarians usually do, you should enjoy your day. Chosen goals are nearer. Increased favors indicated.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Your personal ambitions may be dependent on some trends indicated in the day's news. Adjustments are bound to follow.

NEW YORK (AP) — "An enraged and bitter John Randolph left Pat when Liz told him about Marianne's abortion. Barbara Weaver has been offering her comfort ... to John and he wants to make the relationship permanent!"

A Rona Barrett revelation? Nope, only the opening line in a week's worth of plot summaries of "Another World," one of 14 soap operas closely observed each week by 25-year-old Manuela Soares.

It isn't that the lady, who graduated from Rutgers in 1973 with a degree in comparative literature, is going for a master's in comparative anguish. It's her job to write summaries of soap opera plot lines.

She's the editor and chief plot-watcher at "Daily TV Newsletter," a New York publication that each week keeps viewers posted on both soapy story lines and the doings of daytime drama stars. The newsletter costs $24 a year for 48 issues.

Miss Soares, who says the newsletter began in July 1974 and now has almost 12,000 subscribers, including one in Ethiopia, admits she hadn't much time while in school to watch daytime television.

But now she sees no less than seven soap operas each weekday, five days a week. She switches the dial to inspect episodes of all 14 daytime dramas during the week and thus check what she sees against the material provided her by the producers of each soap opera.

"It's just to make sure," says Miss Soares, a native of Irvington, N.J. "They discuss the shows with me, but you still have to watch to get a lot of the nuances and to really know what's happening."

Keeping track of 70 plot lines a week sounds like an ordeal guaranteed to put one in the Home for the Befuddled. But Miss Soares, who does her viewing on two TV sets in her office, insists it isn't all that difficult.

"After a while, you get so you can manage to do other work and keep an ear on the TV set," she says. "Of course, the music is very helpful. You can tell there's something coming up just judging by the music."

Miss Soares, a veteran of more than a year of soap opera-watching, recently added "Mary Hartman, Mary Hartman" to her coverage. But she only writes feature stories about it, not plot summaries.

This is because more than half the stations carrying it air it at night, including WNEW-TV here. The lateness of the WNEW showing causes an understandable problem for Miss Soares, who explains it this way:

"I find it difficult to stay up until 11 o'clock at night to watch 'Mary Hartman' after watching television all day."

Race To Knight Wins Lebanon Race

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — Race To Knight breezed to a seven-length victory in the featured conditioned pace at Lebanon Raceway Thursday night.

The winner went the mile in 2:08 to return $16.00, $9.20 and $4.00. Right and Ready paid $4.00 and $3.00. Miss Holly Sue was the show horse at $3.80.

The daily double combination of 3-5 paid $149.00 on Pomp's Premier and Berry's Dream.

A crowd of 1,101 wagered $110,527.

Performing Arts

BROCKVILLE, Canada (AP) — The eighth annual 1000 Islands International School of Scottish Performing Arts will be held here July 5-16.

The program includes piping, highland dancing and drumming.

Sweet Poses Conflict Problems

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Should an appointed member of a major state agency be permitted to campaign for Congress without giving up his public job?

The question recurs around Ohio's capital city this election year as a result of the candidacy of David C. Sweet, one of two Democrats on the three-member Public Utilities Commission, for the U.S. House in the state's 15th Congressional District.

Sweet, who was former Democratic Gov. John J. Gilligan's development director until December 1974, claims his candidacy represents no conflict, and that he's in the race to stay.

GOP Gov. James A. Rhodes and other Republicans have called on Sweet to resign the commission post given him by Gilligan just before the later yielded the governor's office to Rhodes. The governor said Sweet should step down if for no other reason than to assure Ohioans that his decisions affecting the state's big utility corporations can't raise questions about possible campaign contributions.

Rhodes, as Sweet and others have pointed out, would be in a position to name Sweet's successor and tip control of the PUCO back to his own party. Commissioners named by the governor serve fixed terms, and may be removed only for cause.

Sweet, apparently in response to Rhodes' comments, filed with the Ohio Ethics Commission a campaign plan which he said will avoid any possible conflicts of interests.

He said he turned over his complete personal financial statement along with copies of his federal income tax returns dating back to 1971—the year he entered public service in Ohio.

Also as part of the package Sweet included was a statement saying he owns no stocks, bonds, or any financial interest in any corporation regulated by the commission. The statement pledged that he would not accept any campaign contributions from any employee or agent of a utility, and that anyone donating to his campaign would be required to sign a statement attesting that they are not an employee or agent of a utility.

Sweet said he also plans to prepare and file time sheets every two weeks indicating the number of hours he has spent on commission business, and that he plans to use the car furnished him by the commission on PUCO business only.

Sweet said his candidacy for the office now held by Rep. Chalmers P. Wylie, R-Ohio, will not force him to "serve two masters", as alleged by Rhodes. "I will remain on the commission during my candidacy, and, in doing so, will serve only one master, the people of Ohio," he said.

The commissioner's detractors, including Rhodes, as much as conceded there is nothing in Ohio law to prevent him from running. But they felt, they said, it was a matter of prudent judgment that suggests Sweet should resign or get out of the race.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A complex low pressure area in the lower Great Lakes continues to spread a touch of winter-like weather across Ohio.

Rain, snow or a mixture of both fell over most of the state last night and this morning, with the only exception in the southwest.

Warmer air moving into Ohio is expected to push afternoon temperatures to the upper 40s and low 50s in northern counties, and to the 50s and 60s in central and southern parts of the state.

NEW ROTARIAN — Earl Palm, right, presented Dave Bolender to the Circleville Rotary Club Thursday as a new member. Bolender is a widely-known Washington Township farmer specializing in the raising of beef and dairy cattle. He and his wife Luella are the parents of four children. He farms 575 acres and is active in Grange, Farm Bureau and several livestock organizations.

spiral, setting the pattern for other big-labor industries that negotiate later in the year.

Teamsters in the continental United States manned picket lines when their three-year contract expired at 12:01 a.m. Thursday. Many trucking firms, however, were able to keep their rigs operating after they signed individual interim agreements to meet Teamsters demands for $1.75 hourly in salary increases and another $17 a week in pension, health and welfare benefits.

Those demands, plus an unlimited cost-of-living increase, are contained in the three-year package the union was last reported seeking in the negotiations here with Trucking Employers Inc., the industry bargaining agent representing 16,000 companies.

The last known industry offer was for a 39-month agreement providing a $1-an-hour wage hike and $11 a week in fringe benefits. The industry was also reported firmly opposed to an unlimited cost of living clause.

Union drivers currently earn $7.18 to $7.33 an hour.

Many of the nation's 100,000 independent truckers remained on the road, and occasional violence resulted — in Cincinnati, Sharonville and Columbus, Ohio — where independents attempted to move their trucks from terminals picketed by Teamsters.

There was widespread fear that continued operation of independents would foster vandalism and other violence by Teamsters. In 1974, when independents struck and Teamsters refused to go out too, there were numerous instances of Teamster-driven rigs being shot up and cab windows smashed. Union drivers were beaten, and one was killed.

said he would stay on even if a new president were elected.

The 99-member parliament was scheduled to meet Monday to adopt a constitutional amendment ending Franjeh's term immediately and permitting election of a new president. Another session was tentatively set for Thursday for the election.

Christians still have a 6-5 majority in parliament and presumably will choose another Christian president. But Junblatt reportedly has agreed to this despite his insistence that the religious basis to Lebanon's political system must be abolished, and majority — meaning Moslem — rule must prevail.

When the French freed Lebanon after World War II, the Christians were in the majority and a political system was adopted giving them the presidency and dominance in parliament, the civil service, the armed forces and ultimately the economy.

Now the Moslems are in the majority, and for 11 months they have been fighting for more power. Syria proposed after the last cease-fire in March a 50-50 division between the Moslems and Christians, but Junblatt seized the military initiative and has been demanding Moslem control as a prelude to conversion of the free-enterprise economy to socialism.

"We now want a quick transition from sectarianism to a modern secular system," Junblatt told reporters after agreeing to the new cease-fire, the 20th in the nearly year-long fighting that has taken an estimated 14,000 lives.

Police reported no fighting in Beirut for the second night but said there were sporadic clashes in the summer resorts in the hills overlooking the capital. Spokesmen said Junblatt's tough mountain warriors made repeated forays in attempts to win control of Kahhaleh, a strategic crossroads town seven miles east of Beirut.

Police spokesman said the Christians repulsed the attacks for the fourth day.

P&Z To Meet Monday

There will be a meeting of Circleville Planning and Zoning Commission 7:30 p.m. Monday at Council Chambers. The commission will discuss the request to rezone the Morris-Atwater area to permit construction of apartments.

LITTLE VISITOR — Faith Brown, Pickaway County Easter Seal child, visited the Rotary Club Thursday during the regular weekly meeting. She is pictured here with Rotarian president Dick Tootle.

Police Probe 2 Thursday Accidents On Washington St.

Four people were injured in separate early Thursday evening auto accidents on Washington St., according to Circleville Police reports.

Both drivers in a 5:07 p.m. accident at the intersection of Washington and Mill Sts. were treated at Berger Hospital.

Debra Shelpman, 19, 456 Brown St., was treated for a possible concussion and facial lacerations and Connie L. Ray, 29, 321 S. Washington St., was treated for contusions to her face and arms.

According to the report of Ptl. Howard Fletcher, Ms. Shelpman was driving east on Mill St. when she couldn't stop her car in time to heed the stop sign at Washington St. She apparently hit the side of Ms. Ray's car, which was north of Washington St.

Ms. Ray's car, after impact, struck a fence and tree on property owned by Larry Harper, 430 S. Washington St., and also struck a parked car owned by Roger T. Geise, 430 S. Washington St.

Ms. Shelpman was charged with failure to yield the right of way. The injured persons were transported to Berger Hospital's emergency room by the Circleville Emergency Medical Team.

Gertrude Arledge, 59, Tarlton, a passenger in a car driven by Alfred Arledge, 71, Tarlton, was treated for a small cut under her eye following a two-car accident at the intersection of E. Main and Washington Sts. 6:28 p.m.

Driver of the other car involved, Rock A. Davis, 20, 359 Walnut St., was referred to a doctor for treatment of a neck injury.

According to the report of Ptl. Mike Eberhard, Arledge was driving west on Main St. and in the process of turning left onto Washington St. when his car was struck by Davis' auto.

Ptl. Eberhard said Arledge apparently turned in front of Davis, who was headed east on Main St.

No charges were filed, however.

PVMH Board To Meet In Chillicothe

The Paint Valley Mental Health and Mental Retardation Board will meet 7 p.m. April 14 at Carver Community Center at 165 W. Fourth St. Chillicothe.

A review and final approval of Community Plans and Drug Abuse Grant proposal for fiscal year 1977 will be the main topic of discussion.

The Paint Valley Mental Health and Mental Retardation Board has the responsibility of planning, coordinating, evaluating, and serving as a funding vehicle for State, Local, and Federal money earmarked for community health services. The Board serves a five-county area consisting of Fayette, Highland, Pike, Pickaway, and Ross Counties.
